1) a thousand thanks for the novel auction book and character package. it raised US $2,250 which I think is pretty extrardinary for Antigua. The winning bidder was Ms. Iris Rayford so please name one of the characters after her. She'll get the autographed book you've already sent plus a signed copy of the new book with her name in it! again on behalf of American Womens Club many many thanks. You would have been very impressed with the caliber of the scholarship grant teenage girls your prize has helped.

2) I won't be down here Eastertime ,unfortunately, to share some bubbly with you all.
And this evening I learned that your chef Troy starts tomorrow fulltime running the staff canteen. Just in case you need a chef I can highly recommend mine : Calvin.

Since I wont be here dont hesitate to call him at 460-4111 if you need him.
He's $100 a day for lunch and dinner, he'll do the shopping- you just reimburse him for what is receipted from Epicurean. He never repeats same meal twice during a stay and he works with Lawrence the pastry chef to create great deserts. Just tell him what you expect and he'll deliver.

cheers- peter's wall is causing a monumental design headache. why does he do to this to us all? he'd have the entire island sea-walled if he could., whatever happened to nature's shoreline?
