1983 DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

DENNIS E. HENSLEY

Dennis E. Hensley earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from SVSC in 1969. After leaving SVSC, Hensley served two years in Viet Nam as an Army sergeant before completing a Master of Arts in English from Central Michigan University. A successful writer and speaker, Hensley considers himself a "positive workaholic." His career in journalism includes general reporting and special columns for "The Muncie Star" (Indiana), as well as free lance articles for 25 major newspapers. He was a regional correspondent for the Fort Wayne "News Sentinel" from 1978 to 1982, and has written more than 700 articles published in over 50 major magazines.

Hensley served as an instructor of English at Ball State University during 1976-77, was skills advancement coordinator at Indiana Vocational Technical College in 1977-78, and director of publications for Manchester College, North Manchester, Indiana, from 1978 to 1982. During this time, he also pursued a career in journalism and frequently spoke to groups throughout the U.S. His techniques for managing a busy but well-balanced life are described in his book titled "Staying Ahead of Time." Other books he has authored include "Jack London Masterplots," "Positive Workaholicism," and "Jack London's Real and Fictional Women."

He was named the outstanding doctoral graduate in English at Ball State in 1982 and cited as outstanding alumnus of Bay City's T.L. Handy High School the same year. Hensley also earned six medals in Viet Nam, including the Bronze Star.

GRADUATION ATTIRE

Following a code adopted by the Intercollegiate Commission in New York City in 1895 and used by more American colleges and universities, our graduates today are wearing gowns made of black material. Sleeves on the gowns of bachelor's degree recipients are long and pointed, while master's degree gowns have long sleeves which are closed at the bottom.

Hoods, made of the same acetate material as the gown, are lined in cardinal red with the second school color—blue—indicated by the chevron. In addition, the colored velvet or velveteen edging on the hood designates the department or faculty from which the degree was issued.
