Mr. Fish

Dear [REDACTED],

My name is Ken Follett and I am a writer of books. Right now I am working on a book about Ross Perot and his company, EDS, of Dallas, Texas, and about Paul Chiapparone and Bill Gaylord, the two EDS men who escaped from Iran in 1979.

Mr Perot is helping me to write the book and I have talked to all the EDS people about their adventure. Of course, you played a big part in helping them to travel from Yuksekova to Istanbul, and I would like to talk to you about the role you played.

Would you please write to me so that I know I have your correct address? Then I will send you a draft of the book for you to read. When you have had time to look at it, I would like to phone you and talk to you about it.

When I was in Dallas in July I had dinner with Ralph Boulware, who sends you his best wishes.

I do hope to hear from you.

Yours sincerely,

Ken Follett.
