Dear Marjory,

Many thanks for your encouraging letter and useful comments.

I'll begin revising in a few days (as soon as we've finished unpacking!) and I should finish some time in June. Al Zuckerman has convinced me that more work is needed on the Rostov-Hassan scenes: at the moment they're mechanical. By the way, the Americans hate my Buffalo taxi-driver!

Has Anthony read TRIPLE yet? If he has any suggestions, I'd like to hear them - but he'll have to be quick.

Yours,

Ken Follett.
