

THE INTERIOR is an attempt to facilitate and improve intra-college communications. It's also a chance for everyone to get published. If you have a witty comment that left them weak with laughter at the Ace of Clubs, a burst of insight into the meaning of immortality, or a major or mini accomplishment, yours or somebody else's, which you feel should be shared, drop it off in writing at my office and look for yourself in print in the next edition.

WSVC AIRBORNE SEPT. 27

WSVC goes on the air Sept. 27 at 2 p.m., broadcasting from the new studio in Project '66 Building. You'll find it at 99.7 MHz on your dial.

According to program director Dennis Rosenblum, the present scheduling calls for classical music from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. and contemporary music--rock, folk, and soul--from 9 p.m. to midnight, seven days a week. Eventually programming will be expanded to include in-school music classes for children, college lecture courses, programs conducted in Spanish and German, a children's story hour, an adult reading series, and a children's news broadcast. Possible features also include programs on travel, horticulture, and cooking.

FACULTY TALENT NIGHT, NOV. 19

You no longer have to hide your talents under a bushel. A faculty-staff talent show is being staged by the Dionysus '70 crew at the coffeehouse the weekend of Nov. 19. Your act can be anything from soft-shoe to Ed Sullivan imitations, poetry readings, musical numbers, or acrobatics. Group performances are welcome.

Representatives from Dionysus '70 will be around getting you to sign on the dotted line. If you consider yourself without talent, at least plan to attend the gala event and witness what your colleagues pass off as talent.

LAW SCHOOL INFO AVAILABLE FROM BILL ELLIOTT

Bill Elliott has the latest information concerning law school requirements, which he will pass on to any interested students. Please make this information available to any students you know of who are considering law school. Bill is also available to speak to groups of prospective law students.

SPORTS NEWS

Dev Pathak and Mike Koval defeated Sam Sarkar and Eric Petersen to win the faculty doubles tennis championship. Pathak then went on to become the singles champion by defeating Sarkar.

Results of the recent Faculty-Staff golf outing at Twin Oaks are a bit clouded. Bob Becker and John Willertz were medalists at 76 each. Herb Dittmar was named handicap winner, but his score is censored.
