CAMPUS NOTES

Mrs. Harriet Tillock will be a guest on WEYI-Channel 25's "Valley Today," on Friday, March 7, at 9:30 a.m. Under the general topic of International Women's Year, she will speak on the subject, "Does Woman Have Limits?"

Dr. David Rayfield has published "On Miller's Paradoxes and Circles" in the Winter, 1975 issue of Inquiry: An Interdisciplinary Journal of Philosophy and the Social Sciences. In his paper, Rayfield explains that the distinction between true and correct descriptions of human behavior does not turn on the notion of an 'unbound action,' and hence is not circular in the way Miller suggests in his paper entitled "Correct vs. Merely True."

Dr. Philip Kumler will present a paper authored by him and Dr. Raymond Boyer, research scientist at the Dow Chemical Company, during the Macromolecular Institute meeting this Thursday. The paper is entitled "Glass Temperature of Polymers by the Electron Spin Probe Technique."

Various individuals in the tri-county area have given the SVC Music Department 17 band instruments, including trumpets, trombones, clarinets, a flute, baritone horns, and snare drums.

Final figures on winter semester enrollment show a 20 per cent increase in students and a 14 per cent increase in credit hours taken over last winter semester. The college has enrolled 2,555 students who take 25,123 credit hours. Last winter semester, 2,191 students took 21,982 credit hours.

This winter semester also shows some slight gain in students over the 1974 fall semester, when 2,541 students registered; but shows a drop from the 25,751 credit hours taken.

Applications for admission next fall semester are running 157 per cent ahead of last year at this time, Dr. Frank Bernier said.

Mrs. Judy Magyar, Chrysallis staff member and a senior at SVC, attended a workshop on funding and starting a day care center, sponsored by the Robert F. Kennedy Council on Campus Child Care, last Thursday and Friday in Washington, D.C. She was one of 150 delegates chosen from a field of 500 applicants.

Two SVC senior music majors, Julie Beffrey and Shelia Hutek, have won the college's Alma Mater songwriting contest. The song, which will premier at graduation on April 26, goes:

"To the white and red of Valley
We raise our banners high!
And in our hearts the memories
Of treasured days gone by.
Oh, Saginaw Valley College, to you we'll ere be true!
You've given us your best, now we pledge our best to you!"

PRESIDENT'S NOTES

Any staff or faculty member who wishes to nominate some individual for an honorary degree at Commencement this April 26 is invited to do so, submitting nominations to Dr. Ryder's office no later than this Friday.

MOVIES

The Hero As Artist, fifth film in Kenneth Clark's "Civilisation," will be shown this Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Wickes Lecture Hall. This film studies the Renaissance and the influence of Pope Julius II.

Day of the Jackal will be shown in the Wickes Lecture Hall this Thursday at 10 p.m., Friday at 1 p.m., and Sunday at 8 p.m.

PERSONNEL NOTES

The college is seeking candidates for the position of part-time secretary III to Academic Support Services, with a pay rate of $55.43 per week. This position is available exclusively to SVC employees until February 11. Interested persons should contact the Personnel Office, ext. 266, before that date. SVC is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

The college has two new secretaries on campus. They are: Betty Bowden, Secretary III in the Registrar's Office; and Katherine Reed, part-time Secretary III to Community Coordinator/Counselor.

SPORTS SHORTS

The women's basketball team won its tenth game in a row last night, defeating Mott Community College in overtime, 56-52. With an 11-1 season record, the team, coached by Archy Robinson, is quickly gaining prominence as one of the finest women's athletic teams in the State.

Thus far, the squad has defeated GLIAC foes Ferris State and Lake Superior State. All the team's talent is locally recruited, with two from Bay City and six from Saginaw area high schools.

Coach Bob Pratt's Cardinals will get a severe test this week when they challenge Aquinas College and Grand Valley State. The team's victory over Northwood Institute Saturday gave the Cards a chance of finishing above Northwood and Oakland in the Conference, which gives the team incentive to finish the season strong.

The 67-member unit of coach "Muddy" Waters' football team earned a cumulative grade point average of 2.51 on the 4.0 scale. Twenty of the predominantly freshman-sophomore group achieved 3.0's or better, and nine others gained 2.9 or better. Freshman Kim Meyer of Reese led the scholarly effort with a perfect 4.0.
