CAMPUS NOTES

Approximately 250 Native American students from various parts of the State spent last night on campus as part of the Native American Career Awareness Conference sponsored by the Mid-Michigan College Consortium, coordinated by Dolores Ramirez. Today, the students will be joined by 700 other minority students from the Tri-Cities, Flint, and Detroit for the Second Annual Mid-Michigan Minority Professional Careers Conference. The Conference is sponsored by SVSC, area businesses and industries, and the National Alliance of Businessmen.

The students will meet in the Gym with representatives of 25 area employers to learn first-hand about opportunities in technical and professional careers. Edward N. Hodges III of Detroit, assistant vice-president-personnel for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, will give the keynote address.

Thursday, May 1, will again be celebrated as "Law Day" throughout the United States. This year's theme, as announced by the American Bar Association, will be "America's Goal - Justice Through Law." Since this date falls between terms, no formal college observance is possible this year.

In accordance with the Saginaw County Bar Association's observance, Dr. William Elliott will be available to faculty and staff to review law-related problems for fifteen-minute periods between 9:30 a.m. and 12 noon on Wednesday, April 30. Contact Ami, ext. 300, for an advanced appointment if you so desire.

The campus will also be the site of a regional Career Education Meeting sponsored by the Michigan Department of Education on Wednesday, April 30. John Broadfoot, SVSC coordinator, expects 115 persons to attend the meeting.

The day-long workshops, which begin at 9 a.m. in Wickes Hall, are designed to assist local school districts understand the Michigan Career Education Model.

Don't forget the first meeting of the SVSC Tennis Club on Wednesday, April 30, on the courts after work. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Area high school juniors and seniors will attend a Yearbook Workshop on campus on Thursday, May 1. The day-long workshop, co-sponsored by the Admissions Office and Josten's American Yearbook Company, will be held in the Theatre Building. Gary Apsey, SVSC coordinator, expects 350-400 students to attend.

1974-75 Kard-Kontrol cards, good through June 30, 1975, may be purchased for $10 plus a $5 deposit. The cards are half-price for all full-time faculty and staff.

The college, through the Office of Continuing Education, will offer two spring semester classes in Midland. "Expanding Awareness," Humanities 301, will be taught by Dr. J. James Thomas, and "Interpersonal Communication," Sociology/Community Service 351, will be taught by Dr. Robert Yien.

Anyone interested in having a garden plot this summer should contact Loretta in the Physical Plant, ext. 222.
