CAMPUS NOTES

Dr. Raymond Tyner has been invited to become a member of the National Society of Literature and the Arts, a society designed to recognize achievements in the creative arts. The Society's Board of Governors includes Agnes deMille, Andrew Wyeth, James Michener, Leontyne Price, Norman Cousins, R. Buckminster Fuller, Richard Fuller, Richard Rodgers, Roger Stevens, and Walter Kerr.

Tyner was also in Louisville, Kentucky to receive awards from the Kentucky Arts Commission. The GREEN RIVER REVIEW, of which Tyner is the editor, received awards for distinguished and discriminating editing and for its high standards of productions.

Dr. Walter James served as a consultant during a Cooperative Education Symposium for Arkansas Junior and Community Colleges. The Symposium was held at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. Dr. James spoke on "Organization and Establishment of a Viable Program and the Part to be Played by Administrators and Faculty, Ways to Education and Experiential Movements," and was part of a panel discussion on various topics concerning cooperative education.

Dr. Suk-Koo Yun attended the national meeting of the American Physical Society in Washington, D.C., where he delivered his research paper entitled "Incorporation of CP-Violation with Unified Renormalizable Gauge Theory," which he co-authored with Professor Tomozawa of the University of Michigan.

Yun has also been appointed a Research Fellow in the physics department at Harvard University for 1975-76. He is planning to spend his sabbatical leave conducting researches in theoretical high-energy physics, one of which attempts to explain and incorporate the newly-discovered particles called "Psi" in the framework of his theory.

Dr. William Elliott has been reappointed editor of the Tri-State Regional Business Law Association Newsletter for 1975-76. He was also elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Association for 1975-76.

Dolores Ramirez has been elected to the five-member Board of Control for the Association of Chicanos for College Admissions.

The SVSC Tennis Club will meet again this Wednesday, May 7, on the college courts after work. Club organizers said everyone is welcome to come and play - regardless of ability, there'll be competition.

Twenty writers from the tri-city area will discuss their specialties at a "Careers in Writing" workshop sponsored by the Chrysallis Center this Saturday, May 10 in Doan Center. The writers will display their books and critique the works of those attending the workshop. The Chrysallis has awarded three college students scholarships for the day's activities.

Judy Magyar and Rose Collamer of the Chrysallis Center presented a film entitled "The Chrysallis Story" during a "Come Alive in '75-A Day for Women" held at the Cass City High School last Saturday. The two were invited by the Cass City AAUW, one of the sponsors of the event.

The Department of Criminal Justice is hosting a "Crisis Intervention Seminar" for law enforcement personnel this week. The sessions will be held in Doan Center.

PERSONNEL NOTICES

The college is seeking candidates for the position of Secretary II in the Admissions Office, with a pay rate of $122 per week. This position is available exclusively to SVSC employees until May 13. Interested persons should contact the Personnel Office, ext. 266, before that date. SVSC is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

SPORTS SHORTS

The college's championship golf team has two more victories---City Classic in Grand Rapids and the Bay Valley Intercollegiate Invitational. Today and tomorrow SVSC is hosting the NAIA District 23 Championships, which the Cardinals won last year. This Friday and Saturday the team will be in Lansing competing in the Spartan Invitational, and will play at Ferris State next Monday.
