MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY, STAFF, AND ADMINISTRATION

Lila and I wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all of you who participated in the Inauguration. This event and the activities over the whole week brought very favorable attention to Saginaw Valley State College both inside and outside the State of Michigan. This kind of recognition is bound to have positive influence on our future private and state support.

I especially want to thank Dr. A. Jefferson Sharp and the Inaugural Committee for the excellent work they did in developing, coordinating and implementing the total program. Many comments have been received praising the event as first-class in every respect.

I want to express appreciation to President David R. Weaver and the members of the SVSC Faculty Association for the reception held in our honor Thursday afternoon--also to President Mark S. Bredholt and members of Student Government and to President James G. Muladore and the Alumni Board for sponsoring our post-inaugural reception. We are indeed thankful.

Further, to Ruth E. Bridge of Midland and her Triskelion committee for their efforts in making the President's Ball a truly delightful and successful event, we are grateful. In addition, Mr. Calvin A. Campbell, chairman of the Board of Fellows and the membership of the Board all participated in the week's events and deserve, therefore, special recognition.

This past week has been an inspiration to Lila and me, not so much because of the recognition we received, but because we are even more keenly aware of the commitment of so many fine people dedicated to the future of Saginaw Valley State College. It is a good feeling to know we are moving together in a direction of which we can be proud.
