CAMPUS NOTES

The United Way, which supports over 70 services, including Big Brothers, Big Sisters, Red Cross, Retarded Children's Service, Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurses Association, Child and Family Service, Community Clinic, Neighborhood House, Re-Ad Program, YWCA and YMCA, is conducting its annual campaign. Last year the college contributed $2200 to this effort. Mrs. Ida Freid, third floor Wickes, will accept your contributions.

The prints of Earl Nitschke of Mount Pleasant will be on display in the Arts Workshop from October 8 to 17. Nitschke, who works in the wood engraving medium, will be the first of the visiting artists for fall semester. His most recent shows have been at the Saginaw Art Museum and Studio 23 in Bay City. He has exhibited throughout Michigan. This spring, Nitschke won a purchase award at the Michigan Print Exhibition in Lansing. He calls himself one of the "old original" members of the CMU Art Department, which now numbers more than 20 faculty.

The Triskelions recently gave $2,500 to the college's scholarship fund, bringing to $18,500 the total amount raised by them since January. The group operates a Consignment Shop in Midland and the Gift Shop in Doan Center.

The pre-medical advisory committee will hold its first meeting for all students interested in medicine, dentistry, and other related fields on Thursday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wickes Hall Board Room. The committee asks that professors make this announcement to their classes.

Members of the committee, Dr. Barron Hirsch, Ted Nitz, Dr. Albert Plaush, and Dr. Walter Rathkamp, will explain the committee's function. The group plans to help pre-professional students make contacts with area physicians and admission people, paramedical programs in the community, and organize a pre-medical club and seminar course.

Richard Wenek, director of the college's Polish Institute, has charged the college with ethnic discrimination. The college has denied the charges, and is withholding further comment until after a private hearing with him on Wednesday, October 1.

PEOPLE

A book review by Dr. William Smith, associate professor of English, has appeared in the latest issue of American Indian Quarterly. The review deals with "Held Captive by Indians, Selected Narratives, 1642-1836," edited by Richard VanDerBeets. It describes the value of this volume for anthropologists, historians, and literary critics.

REMINDER

The Goals and Objectives Committee will hold its first all-college hearing on its preliminary report this Wednesday, October 1, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Theatre Building. All college personnel are invited to attend.

MOVIE

Bluebeard will be shown on Thursday, October 2, at 10 p.m., and on Sunday, October 5, at 8 p.m. in the Wickes Lecture Hall.

COPY CENTER TIPS

HOURS: Copy Center: 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Xerox: 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday; to 4 p.m. on Friday.

PROCEDURES: The Copy Center staff usually operates on a first-come, first-serve basis. Tests have priority. Always check with them regarding equipment capabilities and time needed before starting printing projects. The Center can usually provide same-day service.

Plan enough lead time to accommodate the Center's needs. For better quality and high quantity, a negative must be shot for reproduction. Plan two-three days extra for this service.

Always present your print jobs on individual sheets, but have them printed back-to-back. It'll save you money. Also, be sure to complete the job ticket fully - jobs cannot be run until all information is secured.

TESTS: Special arrangements may be made for tests. Instructors are asked to inform the Center when a test is coming. Their staff is happy to have them present when it is being run.

SERVICE REPAIR: Service for the printing press comes from Flint which means an average two day down period. The Xerox machine receives same-day service. Remember not to overuse the Xerox. Go to the Copy Center when you need more than nine copies of any material.

PERSONNEL NOTES

Emerson E. Holliday, who has been assistant director of Academic Support Services at Texas Southern University, has been named coordinator of Campus Activities. He will work in the Office of Campus Life and report to John C. Burkhardt. Holliday will work with campus organizations and Student Government to arrange campus activities, and will be involved in planning conferences which require the use of Doan Center. He arrived on campus yesterday. He and his wife will live in the dormitories. Holliday earned his bachelors and masters degrees from Texas Southern, and has been doing doctoral work at Bowling Green University.

SPORTS

The junior varsity defeated Ferris State College last night, 18-6, but the varsity suffered its first defeat Saturday to Alma College, 27-6.
