CAMPUS NOTES

For the second year, Campus Ministry will sponsor a "Say It With Bread" campaign November 10-20. In preparation for Thanksgiving, Campus Ministry is asking all college personnel to give up one meal and donate its cost to the campaign. Last year the college contributed $154, and Campus Ministry hopes to go over that figure this year. There are eight stations for giving: the Circulation Desk in the Library, Student Services, Health Service in Wickes Hall, the faculty secretaries, Triskelion Gift Shop and Campus Life Office in Doan Center, the Bookstore, and the Campus Ministry Office in the dorms. All contributions will be given to "Bread for the World," a non-profit, non-denominational organization.

Dolores Ramirez, admissions counselor, will be part of a 25-member North Central Evaluation team accrediting high schools in the Grand Rapids School District.

Dr. Merlyn Mondol, assistant professor of psychology, participated in a panel discussion entitled "The Status of Women in India" on October 21 at Treasure Island Restaurant. The program, in conjunction with Michigan International Week, was sponsored by the Zonta Club of Saginaw. Dr. Mondol was also selected to appear in "Who's Who of Child Development Professionals," published by Marquis Who's Who.

November is flu booster shot month. Anyone who needs a booster shot should see Mrs. Miller in the Health Service. The vaccine is donated by the SVSC Student Government.

Angelita Torrez, coordinator of the Student Development Center, has been elected vice-president of the Michigan Council of Educational Opportunities Programs. Dr. William Byas, director of Academic Support Services, has been elected to the group's executive committee, and is chairman of its Research, Training, and Evaluation committee.

Doan Center will be the site of an all-day meeting of the Saginaw Area International Meditation Society on Sunday, November 9. The group expects 50 to 75 participants. For further information contact John Broadfoot, Office of Continuing Education.

CALENDAR

Gerald L. O'Grady, associate professor of English at the State University of New York at Buffalo and director of both the Center for Media Study and Educational Communications Center at SUNY, will speak on "Media Study: What Everyone Should Know and Why" on Tuesday, November 11, at 8 p.m. in the Theatre.

Grady, who earned his PhD degree in English at the University of Wisconsin and did post-doctoral work at St. Antony's College, Oxford University, has been investigating the state of film and media studies in the country, and encouraging their growth. His research in this area has been directed toward developing curricula in a field which has few, if any, tutorial traditions.

O'Grady is the first speaker in the lecture series sponsored by the college's Academy of Applied Philosophy. An advisory group composed of Dr. Charles Brown, Dr. Wallace Chase, Dr. William Elliott, Dr. John Jezierski, Dr. Thomas Hearron, and Dr. Thomas Renna selected the problem of influence of technology on leadership as the theme for 1975-76. The group was designed to study the proposal: Can leadership be taught in a modern college? The program is sponsored by a three-year grant from the Strosacker Foundation of Midland.

The Department of Campus Life will sponsor a program entitled "Self-Protection for Women" on Monday, November 10, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the lower level of Doan Center. The program will be conducted by Trooper Nystrom of the Bay City State Police Post.

"Portraits and Figures," a showing of the work of Midland artist Richard Balash, will be on display in the Arts Workshop from November 3-14. Balash, a painter and draftsman who has worked both as a fine and commercial artist, is "one of the best shows we've had," according to Dr. Barron Hirsch, professor of art and chairman of the art department. "His sensitive pastels and oils reflect his skill in color and figure study." Balash's most recent exhibitions include the Mid-Michigan Exhibit in Midland, and the Bay City Studio 23 area show, where he received a second-place award in painting.

Timothy Braaten, director of planning and research, Saginaw Police Department, will speak on "Law Enforcement in the Region" at the Valley Forum class today at 4:30 p.m. in Room 238.

COMING EVENTS

Mark off Thursday, November 13, for the SVSC Women's Club Bazaar-Auction. The Bazaar begins at 6:30 p.m., and the Auction at 8 p.m. Proceeds will be used to help alleviate the college's growing pains. The event will be in the lower level of Doan Center.

Also mark off Monday, November 24, when Julian Bond will speak on "Apotheosis of the New Politics" at 8 p.m. in the Theatre. His coming is sponsored by the Student Government.

PERSONNEL NOTICES

The college is seeking candidates for the position of Secretary III for the director of Campus Life, with a pay rate of $112 per week. This position is available exclusively to SVSC employees until November 11. Interested persons should contact the Personnel Office, ext. 266, before that date. SVSC is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

SPORTS SHORTS

Freshman Mark Guimond, right halfback from Saginaw, has been named "Offensive Player of the Week." Guimond was cited by the coaches for his improved performance and for being the team's leading receiver for the past two games. Freshman Brad Wheeler, middle guard from Marysville, was named "Defensive Player of the Week," for his interception, recovery of two fumbles, and 11 solo tackles.

The Cardinals will travel to Northwood Institute this Saturday, where they will play at 1:30 p.m. The junior varsity will host Oakland Community College on Monday, November 10, at 3:30 p.m.

REMEMBER

Unfortunately, everyone is reminded to take precautions to protect their personal belongings and electronic equipment from possible thefts.
