CAMPUS NOTES

Gerald L. O'Grady, Associate Professor of English at State University of New York at Buffalo and Director of SUNY's Center for Media Study and its Instructional Communication Center, will speak on "Media Study: What Everyone Should Know and Why," tonight at 8 p.m. in the Theatre Building. His lecture is the first in a series sponsored by the College's Academy of Applied Philosophy, which is funded by a three-year grant from the Strosacker Foundation of Midland.

As Director of the Center for Media Study, O'Grady established and now administers a university-wide program in the creation, interpretation, and social and psychic effects of film, video, and other codes. As director of the Instructional Communication Center, he is involved in the planning, budgeting, and management of seven divisions: graphics, photography, film, television, media library, media delivery, and curricular planning. O'Grady also plans the communications design, systems, and software of the new campus, and manages the college's Health Services' Communication Center.

Dr. William Hoffmann, Professor of History, has been selected to appear in the Dictionary of International Biography, which is published by the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, England. The volume will contain the biographies of some 15,000 men and women from various countries throughout the world.

The first seminar on Crisis Intervention Training for police personnel throughout the state will be held in Doan Center, November 17 to 21. The seminars, which are coordinated by Dr. Walter T. James, are funded by a grant from the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs. They are designed to help police officers better understand and resolve situations involving family disturbances, ethnic and minority group relations, mentally ill persons, suicidal persons, street tensions, neighborhood problems, and labor disputes.

Dr. Merlyn Mondol, Associate Professor of Psychology, spoke on "The Status of Women in India" for a panel on the topic "International Women," in conjunction with Michigan International Week. Other countries represented included Iran, Japan, and Africa. The program, which was sponsored by the Zonta Club of Saginaw, was held on October 21 at Treasure Island Restaurant.

Ed Anderson, Director of Retail Marketing, Michigan Bean Company, will speak on "Problems of Agriculture in the Region," today in Valley Forum class at 4:30 p.m. in Room 238.

Next Wednesday, November 19, the Ferdinand Roten Galleries of Baltimore will have a one-day showing which will include major works by early and modern artists. It will be held in the library from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

A Marx Brothers double feature, Duck Soup and Coconuts, will be shown this Thursday at 10 p.m. and Sunday at 8 p.m. in Wickes Hall. The movie series is sponsored by the SVSC Student Government.

Students, faculty, and staff may obtain tickets for Julian Bond's lecture, "The New Constituency," from the SVSC Student Government or Campus Life Office. His lecture, November 24 at 8 p.m., is sponsored by the Student Government.
In case you haven't eaten in Doan Center for a while, you should go over and be pleasantly surprised. The Snack Bar has become the "Cardinal Nest," and during the hours of 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. waitresses and waiters are on hand to take your order and deliver it to you, eliminating the long lines at the counter.

Don't forget the "Say It With Bread" campaign now going on. The Campus Ministry is asking all college personnel to give up one meal and donate the money to the campaign. All money will be given to a non-denominational, non-profit organization which helps fight world hunger.

The college will participate in a two-day blood drive next Tuesday and Wednesday, with a goal of 100 pints. You may donate in the Student Concourse on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

NOTICES

All students who wish or need to take/retake the Basic Skills Tests in Mathematics, Reading Comprehension, and Composition have until November 25 to do so. Interested students should call Dr. Byas' office, ext. 293, and make an appointment.

Applications for the annual competition for graduate and post-doctoral fellowships for the National Science Foundation are now available. The Foundation plans to award approximately 500 graduate fellowships and 100 post-doctoral energy-related fellowships early next year. Graduate fellowships will be awarded for full-time study leading to the master's or doctoral degree in science, including the social sciences, mathematics, or engineering. Application deadline is December 1. Further information and application material may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20418.

PERSONNEL NOTICES

The college is seeking candidates for the position of Admissions Counselor. This individual will recruit and process applications of students applying to SVSC, administer campus tour programs, process out-of-state inquiries and applications, and counsel students with academic and personal concerns.

A master's degree is preferred but not required. The position requires a willingness to travel extensively, to perform public relations functions, and to develop aggressive, yet effective, recruitment techniques for the assigned duties. Previous work experience (i.e., education, public relations, guidance and counseling, etc.) in the assigned geographic area is strongly recommended, as is a familiarity with the academic programs, physical structure and faculty roster at SVSC, and demonstrated public speaking ability. Salary range is $10,000-$11,500, commensurate with qualifications and experience.

This position is available exclusively to SVSC employees until November 18. Interested persons should contact the Personnel Office, ext. 266, before that date. SVSC is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

SPORTS SHORTS

The JV team finished its season by defeating Oakland Community College 28-16. The game was called three minutes early because of darkness.

Two freshmen defensive tackles, Randy Moore of Midland, and Mark Gwizdala of Bay City, were named "Players of the Week." The Hillsdale Chargers, the college's arch-rival, will play here on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. This game has been described as the most important one for both teams.
