CAMPUS NOTES

Dr. Gamal Elashhab, associate professor of education, will publish "Division of Fractions- Discovery and Verification," in an upcoming issue of School Science and Mathematics, a national journal for science and mathematics teachers. The article is based upon work done by Elashhab during his sabbatical.

Dr. Samuel Levine, professor of chemistry, has been elected vice-chairman of the Physical Science Section of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters.

Jose Valderas, special services counselor, spoke last Wednesday on "The Special Services Program and the Minority Student" during Delta College's 6th Annual Chicano Awareness Week. He also discussed financial aid and career outlooks.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to a meeting at 12 noon on Wednesday, December 3, in the Theatre, when Dr. Jack Ryder will respond to the Goals and Objectives Committee's proposals on academic structure. Tentative recommendations to the Board of Control will be reviewed. Dr. Ryder will also review the status of the 1975-76 budget, indicating cuts to be made to balance the budget. Hopefully, the Legislature will have made a final decision on the cuts by then.

Beginning today, the Academic Support Services Program, under the direction of Dr. William Byas, will administer vocational testing on an appointment basis. Vocational interest inventory tests will be administered. Students will meet later with Dr. Edward Barnes, assistant director of testing, for test interpretation. Interested students may contact the Counseling Center, ext. 295, to make an appointment.

The college will offer four graduate courses this winter semester in cooperation with MSU and U-M. The courses continue SAGE (Saginaw Area Graduate Education), an informal consortium arrangement which was formed this fall when SVSC, U-M, MSU, and CMU offered two courses cooperatively. See John Broadfoot, director of Continuing Education, for more information.

SVSC has been authorized by the State Board of Education to offer a bilingual education program in Spanish. Dr. Harold Peterson, Dean of the College of Education, said the college will offer a program, next spring and summer terms, to begin training experienced teachers-both elementary and secondary- to work with Spanish-speaking students.

Students may pre-register for winter semester classes until December 10, and may then register during open registration on January 2. More than 2,000 students are pre-registered, with a total on-campus enrollment of approximately 3,000 students expected.

The college will be closed this Friday, November 28, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

CALENDAR

Donald Novey, associate professor of education, will speak to today's Valley Forum class on "Great Lakes Shipping and the Region," at 4:30 p.m. in Room 238.
The relationship between the American colonies and Britain will be detailed tonight when Dr. Robert Braddock, associate professor of history, continues the six-part Bicentennial Lecture Series at 8 p.m. in the Theatre Building. The Lecture Series is co-sponsored by the History Department and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Germania of Saginaw will present a Christmas Concert this Sunday, November 30, at 7 p.m. at the Germania Club, 2099 Wheeler. Dr. Kurt Tintner will direct the Germania Symphony and the Germania Combined Choruses. Main feature of the concert will be J.S. Bach's "Christmas Oratorio," with soloists from the music faculty of Michigan State University. The concert is open to the public, and tickets-$1 donation- will be available at the Germania Office from 12 noon to 6 p.m. daily and at the door, as space permits.

The English Department will have its annual Awards Evening on Monday, December 1, at 8 p.m. in the lower level of Doan Center. Guest artists for the event will be Jim Wayne Miller and Cynthia Nibbelink-Brouwer. Miller, professor of German at Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, has just recently published "Figure of Fulfillment," a book of his poems with the Green River Press. His work has been published in the Green River Review and the Southern Poetry Review, and he has published "Dialogue With a Dead Man," another collection of his poetry. Nibbelink-Brouwer is Poet-In-Residence at Thomas Jefferson College, Grand Valley State Colleges. Her work has been published in Kadain Poetry Series, the Harvard Advocate, the Massachusetts Review, and she has published "Animals," a collection of poems.

A reception will follow the presentation of the literary awards. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Department of Foreign Languages and the Department of Campus Life will sponsor Language Day on Tuesday, December 2, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Dr. Lynn Herksstroeter expects approximately 400 high school French, German, and Spanish students to attend the event.

The Saginaw Gears Hockey team is sponsoring a SVSC Alumni Association Night on Saturday, December 6, when the Gears play the Flint Generals at 7:30 p.m. at the Saginaw Civic Center. All alumni, spouses, friends, and college personnel will be admitted to the game for $3.50, which is $1 off the regular price; and have been invited to patronize the Blue Line Club free of cover charge. Interested persons may make reservations by calling Barb or Kathy at ext. 246. Reservations must be made by December 3.

The Music Department will present a Stage Band Concert on Tuesday, December 2, from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in Doan Center. It will also present a Marching Band Concert on Wednesday, December 3, from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in Doan Center. Everyone is invited to attend, especially football players who missed all performances of the Marching Band.

SPORTS SHORTS

The Cardinal basketball team won the first tournament in the college's history, defeating John Wesley College 80-70 and Hillsdale College 66-52. Dale Brown, sophomore captain from Carrollton and David Roach, freshman guard from Flint, were named to the All-Tourney team.

The team will make its first home appearance on Monday, December 1, against Michigan Tech at 7:30 p.m. The evening is Faculty Night, and all college personnel and their families will be admitted free of charge. Faculty and staff may pick up their sports passes that evening also.

The men's bowling team won five games and lost three last Saturday, playing against Kellogg Community College and U-M Flint. Matt Sujkowski was high bowler with a 215 game.
