CAMPUS NOTES

James J. Fitzpatrick, TV commentator and newspaperman, will speak on "Leadership, Technology, and Politics" on Tuesday, January 27, at 8 p.m. in the Theatre Building. His visit is sponsored by the college's Academy of Applied Philosophy which is funded by a three-year grant from the Strosacker Foundation of Midland. There is no admission charge.

Kilpatrick is a regular commentator for CBS-TV and author of "A Conservative View," a syndicated column which appears in some 320 American newspapers.

Dr. Ryder has appointed the Review Committee for the appointment of a new Director of Admissions. The committee will review the applications, interview candidates, and submit a list of three possible appointees to Dr. Ryder. Committee members are: Larry Kickham, assistant professor of accounting, chairman; Steven Childs, admissions counselor; Dr. Basil Clark, assistant professor of English; Dr. Gamal Elashshab, associate professor of Education; Jim Larkin, admissions counselor and athletic recruiter; Richard Thompson, registrar and acting director of admissions; Angelita Torrez, coordinator of Student Development Center and assistant director of Special Services; and Linda Ruonavaara, student.

Frank "Muddy" Waters, head football coach, has been appointed to the U.S. Congress' Joint Committee on Physical Education and Athletics. He represents the NAIA.

Mike Mills, sports information director, has placed 15th in the NAIA's competition for printed football brochures. SVSC is one of two Michigan NAIA colleges to be honored. Hillsdale College placed fifth.

The college will sponsor an eight-week yoga workshop beginning this Saturday, January 24. Interested persons may contact the Office of Continuing Education, ext. 213.

The Alumni Association will present a Distinguished Alumni Award at commencement this year. The award, the first of its kind, is designed to honor an alumnus who has contributed to one of the following areas: the college, community, or Alumni Association. Any SVSC graduate is eligible for the award. Nominations should be sent to Jim Muladore, c/o Business Office, by March 15. The Association's Board of Directors will decide the recipient of the award.

CHRYSSLIS NOTES

The Chrysslis Center will sponsor a panel discussion entitled "Pay Homage to Tradition---Totems, Fetishes, and Fables" this Wednesday, January 21, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 319. The discussion is one of the Forge and Flame series. WBCM radio will tape the discussion for later broadcast.

Panel members include Mrs. Rosalie Troester, instructor of Humanities; Arthur E. Nelson, Oeming and Nelson Architects, and chairman of the Saginaw County Parks Commission and head of the Saginaw Chapter of Keep Michigan Beautiful; Miss Mildred McTye, Detroit, Women's Consultant for the Michigan Employment Security Commission; and Mrs. Rowena Taylor, SVSC student. Mrs. Rose Collamer, instructor of English and director of the Chrysslis Center, will moderate the discussion.
