WINTER SEMESTER ENROLLMENTS UP

Temperatures may be hovering near all-time lows, but SVSC will begin the new semester with a record high winter enrollment, according to preliminary registration data. Although an official head count will not be available until off-campus and late registrations are completed, 3,756 students had signed up for classes by 7:00 p.m., January 7. That's up 10% from a comparable date last winter semester.

Final figures for winter 1980 listed 3,568 students, and SVSC officials expect to exceed that count by more than ten percent in 1981. Late and off-campus registration continues through January 16.

Winter classes began on Monday, January 12, and a special orientation period for new students was conducted from 4:00-7:00 p.m. that day. Incoming freshmen and transfer students met in lower level Doan Center to learn about the campus and services offered by various departments.

Denise Ottinger, coordinator of residential life, reports that dorms are again filled to capacity for winter. While there are vacancies for three or four women, men's rooms are all assigned and nine male students are on a waiting list. Persons knowing about nearby off-campus housing available to these young men are asked to contact Ottinger at ext. 4255.

SVSC FUTURE DISCUSSED WITH STATE OFFICIALS

SVSC's Board of Control and president Jack M. Ryder traveled to Lansing last Friday to meet with Governor William Milliken and state budget officials. Although there had been speculation that major policy announcements might be made, discussion at the closed meeting was general in nature.

While both state and college officials expressed concern over funding for SVSC, conversations focused on an exchange of ideas about future needs. "The governor told us state resources will be lean for several years to come," said Board chairman Charles B. Curtiss. "But he wanted to reaffirm his commitment to higher education and try to determine how to use state resources to the best advantage."

As expected, SVSC's capital outlay requests were examined. Currently, college administrators are asking for construction of IF2, a $25.8 million structure which would house a new library and classrooms. Also pending is an $18.7 million heating and cooling plant designed to centralize these functions for all campus buildings.

According to Curtiss, Governor Milliken asked whether IF2 construction was dependent upon the heating and cooling plant. "Our answer was that IF2 could be built without the plant. The heating and cooling plant is a good idea and it would be more efficient, but it's not necessary for the instructional facility," Curtiss noted.

Because of adverse economic conditions, the state has been faced with a budget deficit and has cut appropriations to higher education. SVSC's 1980-81 allocation is $6.2 million, down some $400,000 from the previous fiscal year. At the same time, enrollments have continued to climb, resulting in a budget crunch and numerous belt-tightening measures.

State officials assured SVSC representatives that funding will be restored to higher education as soon as state revenues improve. "I believe the governor has a very strong commitment to stepping up state support of higher education," concluded Curtiss.

SVSC TO HOST FLUTE SYMPOSIUM

Chalk up another first for SVSC's music department. On Friday, January 23, music faculty and staff members will host the First Annual Flute Symposium for junior high, high school and college flutists in this area.

Invitations have been sent to more than 200 schools in Bay, Midland, Saginaw and Tuscola counties to participate in events which begin at 1:00 p.m. in the SVSC theatre. The symposium is directed by Mary Anderson, SVSC flute instructor. A resident of Bay City, Anderson brings years of experience as a private flute teacher, conductor of SVSC and Delta College flute choirs, and soloist with Saginaw Symphony.

"We are excited about this program," notes Tom Root, chairman of SVSC's music department. "Students and their instructors can take part in the symposium as playing members of a master class taught by Ms. Anderson, through workshops in flute ensemble technique, or as auditors simply listening to the day's events. We've also scheduled a seminar in flute repair to be presented by Jack Bruske."

Ms. Shelley Gilbert, manager of the Flute Center of Southfield, will display a variety of sheet music for flute as well as various types of flutes. An accomplished flutist who has published flute music, Ms. Gilbert will be on hand to answer questions about the instrument.

All symposium participants will receive a packet of materials including a bibliography of best flute methods, selected solos arranged for flute, and flute ensemble literature. A $5 registration fee covers the entire day's events, including supper, the repair workshop, materials packet, and evening performance. Members of the master class, which is limited to 12 persons, will pay an additional $5 to cover cost of a private lesson.

Highlight of the symposium will be an 8:00 p.m. performance by a massed flute choir in the college theatre. Students will present music which was rehearsed in afternoon workshops and classes. Included will be a portion of the "Picnic Suite" from a December release written by Claude Bolling for flute, classical guitar, piano, drums and bass. Soloists are Mary Anderson, flute; Todd Lane, guitar; Kevin Cole, piano; Dave Powers, drum; and Bill Tolson, bass. The concert is open to the public with free admission.

"I believe that this will be an exceptional musical event for everyone involved," concludes Root. Persons with questions about the symposium can contact Root at ext. 4387 or the fine arts office at 4159.

If you've ever tried to cash a check in a distant city, you know how important personal identification can be. SVSC provides free photo ID cards for all students, faculty and staff members. The convenient wallet-sized cards can be used for campus events and services, as well as supplementing your driver's license and other identification in business situations.

Photos for the SVSC cards will be taken January 13 through 15, and again on January 21, 22, 27 and 28. A variety of times and locations have been established for your convenience. Check the following schedule for your preferred time and place, or call campus activities at ext. 4260 with any questions.

PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICE HOURS CHANGED

SVSC's department of public safety has changed its office hours for winter semester, according to director Zane Rybkowski. General office services will be available between 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday. On Friday, services will be provided until 4:30 p.m. The office will be closed on Saturday and Sunday.

Only emergency services will be available whenever the office is closed. After-hours police, fire, or medical emergencies should be referred to Saginaw County Central Dispatch at 9-911, who will send a campus police officer or a sheriff's deputy to assist.

After scheduled office hours, the telephone at SVSC's department of public safety will be answered by a tape recording referring the caller to the Delta College campus police for emergency assistance. Please do not call Delta for general information or assistance. Personnel there will be unable to provide information concerning campus events, keys for state vehicles, overnight parking permits, guest parking permits, parking tickets, keys for buildings or room numbers.

ISLAMIC FAITH STUDIED

Marilyn Oeming, reading specialist at SVSC, is coordinating a six-part series on the Islamic faith. Sponsored by the adult education committee of the First Congregational Church, 412 Hayden, Saginaw, the series will examine similarities as well as differences between Christian and Islamic faiths.

According to Rev. Timothy Queen, associate pastor at the church, present involvement of the United States in Iran sparked interest in the program, entitled "Islam in Review." "We really don't know what's going on with this religion," he added. "Our purpose is one of discovery and appreciation."

Each of the six sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. on successive Sundays through February 15. Mrs. Oeming conducted the first session on January 11. The series will continue January 18 when Thomas Renna, professor of history at SVSC, discusses "History and Politics of Islam."

On January 25 Steve Gonzales' topic is the "Koran." Dr. Gamal Elashhab, professor of education at SVSC, will talk about the "Belief and Practice of Islam" on February 1. The February 8 meeting features Wilbert Johnson coordinating a discussion on the Black Muslim movement. The series ends on February 15 with a comparison of Islam and Christianity.

All meetings will include a question and answer session, and all are open to the public. Participants are asked to use the Baum Street entrance to Bradley Hall in the church.

"LADY HOUSE BLUES" AUDITIONS SET

Theatre instructor Maarten Reilingh is looking for actors, actresses and people who prefer to work behind the scenes in SVSC's winter semester play.

Reilingh has selected "Lady House Blues" for presentation in mid-March. Auditions for the play are scheduled in the SVSC theatre from 4:00 - 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 28, and Thursday, January 29. There are five major female roles, and several miscellaneous parts for male actors.

Preceding auditions, a meeting is set for 4:00 p.m. Tuesday, January 27, in the theatre, open to anyone who would like to become involved in play production. If you have skills or would like to learn about makeup, costuming, set design or other aspects of theatre, plan to be on hand. Reilingh hopes to organize an on-going group to support SVSC stage productions.

Scripts for "Lady House Blues" are available from Reilingh's office. Phone him at ext. 4306 for information about the play or backstage help needed. Participation in acting or production roles is open to all members of the SVSC community.

UNITED WAY CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Dr. Guy Lee, coordinator of the 1980 United Way campaign at SVSC, announced this week winners of a special drawing held for campus contributors. First place award of $35 went to Sally Morley, coordinator of annual funds, and $20 second place money was awarded to Bob Hanes, physical plant director.

An anonymous donor supplied the prize money, and winning names were chosen from cards entered for each contributor to the SVSC drive. Lee pointed out that donation of the special prize meant that the entire $7,009 pledged by SVSC donors will be forwarded to Saginaw County United Way.

WINTER INTRAMURALS SCHEDULED

Paul DeGuise has scheduled several intramural sports activities for winter semester. Men can participate in basketball or racquetball, and a women's volleyball competition is planned. Ski trips and bowling are open to both men and women.

Deadline to sign up for basketball, volleyball or bowling is January 16, with games to begin the following week. Men planning to play racquetball should register by January 22, and the 23rd is the final date to reserve a spot for the Crystal Mountain ski trip scheduled for January 30.

Intramurals are open to all members of the campus community. Call DeGuise at ext. 4067 or campus activities at ext. 4260 for more information about any event.

SVSC CHOSEN FOR TV PROGRAM SITE

SVSC will be on TV-5 (WNEM) Wednesday, January 21 as part of the "P.M. Magazine" program. Camera crews were on campus January 6, filming portions of the show in dormitory rooms and other sites.

Although most students were at home enjoying a break between semesters, a few faithfuls were on hand to become instant video "stars." Watch for them on the 21st!

GUINNESS FILM SCHEDULED

There's a special treat in store for Alec Guinness fans when the Valley Film Society presents "The Horse's Mouth" on Friday, January 16. The 1958 film stars Guinness in a hilarious tale of the adventures of a disheveled and conniving painter. Sir Alec is superb (as usual).

Slated for 8:00 p.m., the movie will be shown in Wickes lecture hall, following the VFS meeting at 7:30. Pro-rated memberships based on remaining films in the series are available by contacting David Barker at ext. 4303 or Kay Harley at ext. 4317.

ALL-AMERICAN RECEPTION

NAIA First-Team All-American Eugene Marve will be the honoree at a reception Tuesday, January 20, at 3:30 p.m. in lower Doan. The SVSC community is invited to join Marve and the athletic staff for punch and cookies.

Marve, a 6-3 junior defensive end from Flint Northern High School, is SVSC's second NAIA First-Team All-American gridder. He was one of two Cardinals given post-season honors this past year. Senior wide receiver Melvin Mathews was recognized as an NAIA All-American Honorable Mention.

ART GALLERY FEATURES STUDENT WORK

A series of student art shows has been scheduled for the month of January by the art department. First is an exhibition of watercolors which features the works of Debra Bruce, Catherine Burkhard, Fred Buxman, Pat Hofmann, Carole Hollis, Amy Kramer, Jayne Kruska. Patrice McCullen, Pam McKim, Lynn Stecher, MaryAnne Szyperski, Dennis Ullrich and Mary Varga. Their paintings will be on display in the art workshop through January 16, according to associate professor Matthew Zivich.

Later shows will spotlight the works of photography students who studied with Curt Leece during fall semester. A display of student silkscreen work will complete the series.

All workshop gallery exhibitions are open to the public weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Call the fine arts office at ext. 4159 for information.

BUSINESS OFFICE OUTLINES PROCEDURES FOR CASH COLLECTION AND DEPOSIT

Since some campus departments are involved in activities that require collection of cash, budget director Jim Muladore has outlined procedures for maintaining cash records and making deposits.

According to Muladore, cash should be promptly deposited with the cashier located in the business office in '66 Building. Whenever $50 or more cash has been collected, a deposit is required, and smaller amounts will be accepted.

Records of cash collections should list the name of the person or organization remitting payment, a description of the reason for payment, the account number to be credited, date and signature of person who receipts the payment.

Departments who frequently receive cash should request and use SVSC's standardized special receipt book to maintain transaction records. The receipt book and instructions for its use may be obtained by contacting the controller's office at ext. 4218.

CAMPUS NOTES--

--SVSC professor of art Dr. Barron Hirsch has a mixed media drawing on exhibit in a display titled "Threshold to a Cosmic Age." The juried show continues throughout January at the Fox Fine Arts Center of the University of Texas at El Paso.

- - - - -

--Dr. Hong Park, director of SVSC's center for economic and business research, was featured speaker at the January 8 meeting of Saginaw's Percolator Club. He discussed "1981 Economic Outlook for the Saginaw Valley." Park will present the same address to Saginaw Township Kiwanis club members at noon on January 14.

- - - - -

--Professor of history Dr. Thomas Renna helped kick off a new WSGW radio show January 5. He was a guest on the first "Hot Line" program hosted by Brent Williams. Topic for the day was the Iranian situation.

BOARD RECEIVES WINTER SEMESTER PROGRESS REPORTS

At its regular monthly meeting on January 12, SVSC's Board of Control voted unanimously to name Judge Donna Morris of Midland to the college's board of fellows. Mrs. Morris, who currently serves as judge of the probate court for Midland county, is the fourth woman appointed as an SVSC fellow.

The Board also recognized the appointment of Dr. G. James Williams of Midland to a post on the SVSC Board of Control vacated by the resignation of Arthur Majewski of Detroit. It was noted that Dr. Williams received an honorary doctor of laws degree from SVSC in 1979 and has served as chairman of the Board of Directors of the SVSC Foundation since its establishment in February 1977.

In other action, the Board:

--received a preliminary winter registration report from registrar Paul Saft. At the end of the regular registration on January 7, a total of 3,576 students had enrolled in 36,163 hours of course work. This compares with 3,438 students carrying 32,061 credit hours at the beginning of winter semester classes a year ago. Students this winter are taking an average class load of 9.6 credits, compared to 9.3 in winter '80. Late and off-campus registrations continue through January 16, with a final head count due late in the month.

--learned that applications for fall semester 1981 are up 45% over a similar date last year. This includes a substantial increase from the out-state area.

--heard a summary of winter semester residence hall occupancy showing dorms again filled to capacity. While there are some vacancies for female students, 11 male students remain on a waiting list for rooms. Suitable off-campus housing is still needed for overflows, and it is anticipated that dorm space will not be adequate to meet next fall's housing needs.

--discussed a report prepared by Dr. Ann K. Dickey showing student head count and credit hours from 1970 through 1980. Dr. Dickey noted that climbing student enrollments have created pressures on both limited physical facilities and full-time faculty who teach many courses on an overload basis. While faculty numbers have increased by 10%, from 101 to 111, growth in student credit hours was 14% in the same period. As a result, it appears likely that SVSC will need to limit future enrollments to present levels until funding is available to hire additional full-time faculty and provide added classrooms. Administrators noted that part-time faculty cannot be used more extensively than at present without encountering problems related to accreditation or non-compliance with SVSC's faculty contract. Other alternatives suggested included increasing class size, adding weekend or off-campus class sections, raising tuition, or setting higher academic standards for admission.

--Chairman Curtiss briefly summarized discussions which took place in the January 9 meeting with Governor Milliken and state budget officials. He noted that financial problems encountered in state financing are likely to be long term. "Future growth will have greater constraints. These constraints raise questions which are not easy to address," he said. SVSC officials felt the governor's office was supportive of college needs, and will supply increased financial assistance as soon as an improved economy permits.

--learned from vice president Woodcock that work is progressing to remodel modular units for a new bookstore to be located southeast of Doan Center. The new facility will provide approximately 70% more floor space, and allow room for student access to bookshelves. Move from the present Wickes location is expected in mid-February. Space currently used by the bookstore will house the new library computer and an audio-visual area.

PLACEMENT, CO-OP ED HOST OPEN HOUSE

SVSC students, faculty and staff are invited to visit the placement and cooperative education offices in '68 building anytime between 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 21. Placement and co-op staff members will be on hand to explain services provided by the office.

According to director Gary Apsey, a highlight of the open house will be a series of mock job interviews conducted by local employers. Persons who are interested in improving their interview techniques should contact the placement office for an appointment on the 21st.

Candidates will be screened by employers in the same way that an actual job interview would be conducted, and given constructive suggestions for perfecting their skills.

SVSC alumni have been invited to join the open house and share job experiences with students. Guests can also learn about the job boards and registers as well as other career aids available through the office.

For more information about the open house, contact Gary Apsey at ext. 4071.

PRESIDENTIAL COFFEE

President and Mrs. Jack M. Ryder invite all members of the faculty and administrative staff to a presidential coffee featuring their impressions of their Far East trip to Taiwan, Hong Kong, Korea and Japan.

They will show slides and have table demonstrations of materials relating to the educational systems and specific institutions of higher education visited.

Discussion will be held concerning potential exchange opportunities for SVSC faculty, administrative staff, and students. Also the role of women in the Taiwanese society will be reviewed.

The coffee will be held on January 22 at 3:30 p.m. in lower level Doan Center.
