SETTING THEIR COURSE AT SVSC

Incoming freshmen got a preview of campus life when they participated in SVSC orientation sessions last week. Typical were Laura Nelson, left below, and Mark Vivio, on the right. Laura smiles at a joke told by Dr. William K. Barnett, dean of Arts and Behavioral Sciences, while Mark concentrates on learning about services available to assist SVSC students.

Daughter of Dawayne and Mary Lou Nelson, 5229 VanAmberg, Brighton, Laura plans to major in psychology. Mark is the son of Clarence and Rita Vivio, 701 Sixteenth St., Norway. He will enter SVSC's criminal justice program this fall.

The students were among some 160 freshmen to attend SVSC's second orientation session this summer. Another program is planned for July 27 and 28, and a final period is set for August 10.
HORWATH TO HEAD LIBRARY/LEARNING RESOURCES

Dorothy Horwath has been named interim director of library and learning resources for SVSC. Her appointment is effective August 1 when she succeeds Dr. Michael M. Lee.

Horwath joined SVSC in 1969 as audio visual librarian after serving six years at Delta College library. She earned a bachelor of arts from SVSC and a master's degree in library science from the University of Michigan. In 1978 she became acting director of library and learning resources, and since 1979 has been media librarian and assistant director of library and learning resources.

Lee will become director of the library and professor of library science for Central Missouri State University.

PAPERBACK BOOK EXCHANGE SET

The library is sponsoring a paperback book exchange designed to bring low-cost leisure reading pleasure to the SVSC community. The system operates on a one-for-one basis: participants may take as many books as they bring in exchange. There is no fee, and no circulation transaction is required. Persons with questions about the new program can call the circulation desk at ext. 4240, or simply drop by the library at their convenience.

EXPENDITURE POLICIES OUTLINED

A memorandum directed to the College community on April 12 by Jerry A. Woodcock, vice president for business affairs, stated in part:

"Effective immediately, the only expenditures which should be made from supply and expense (S & E) budgets are those which cannot be deferred without adversely affecting the essential functioning of the office or department."

In answer to questions raised by several persons, Woodcock notes that these restrictions apply to the 1982-83 fiscal year and will remain in effect until further notice. He also pointed out that, as previously stated, supply and expense accounts in each vice presidential area will be reduced by 10 percent for 1982-83. "These reductions will not be across-the-board," Woodcock said. "Management reports indicating the new 4xx block budgets will be distributed in upcoming weeks as an aid to account managers," he added.

"Wherever possible, we ask that purchases be deferred through 1982-83 to assist in reducing College expenditures," Woodcock concluded.

GRAPHICS CENTER PRINTING SCHEDULE

Dale Irish, director of business services, reminds SVSC personnel that now is the time to submit requests for major publications which must be completed prior to the beginning of fall semester. "Graphics center director Perry Toyzan has already begun to receive many such jobs," said Irish, "and he asks that you avoid scheduling conflicts by contacting him as soon as possible."

Questions about internal printing jobs can be directed to Toyzan at ext. 4278.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED TO AREA STUDENTS

Three students who completed community college programs of study have been awarded scholarships to continue coursework toward bachelor's degrees at SVSC. Eligibility for the grants includes outstanding academic achievement, plus service to the community.

Recipients of SVSC's Community College Scholarships for 1982 are: Margaret A. Maday and Ellen K. Petre, both from Saginaw; and Gary Joseph Pochyla of Shelby. Ms. Maday plans to major in accounting, while Mrs. Petre will complete a degree in psychology and sociology. Both earned associate's degrees from Delta College, and Pochyla received an associate's degree from West Shore Community College.

The awards cover full tuition and fees at SVSC for four semesters, with renewal based on maintenance of a 3.0 or higher grade point average.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED FOR POLISH STUDIES

Four scholarships, each worth $400, will be awarded to recent high school graduates who enroll in classes offered by the Institute of Polish Studies at SVSC during the 1982-83 academic year. The grants are provided by the Saginaw Valley Friends of Polish Culture to encourage study of Polish language, literature and culture.

Dr. Cezary Mendelius, member of the Friends of Polish Culture educational committee, announced establishment of the new scholarship program. He said, "We believe that young Polish-Americans should develop an awareness of their heritage for the enrichment of their own personalities, their families, and their communities. Whatever their major field of study, we hope they will make use of this unique opportunity to obtain a minor in Polish language or studies," he added.

Scholarship applicants should have a 3.0 or better grade point average in high school and demonstrated leadership in extracurricular activities. Preference is given to students of Polish-American background, and those interested in promoting an understanding of Polish culture within the community.

Candidates will be asked to write a composition stating their purpose in seeking the award. The essay will accompany an application form, available from the registrar's office, and should be submitted to the Institute of Polish Studies by Thursday, August 5.

Applicants will be interviewed by the Friends of Polish Culture educational committee on Tuesday, August 10. Successful candidates may use the awards for class registration on August 10 or 11, or a later registration period set for August 31 - September 2.

Interested persons can obtain more information about the scholarship program by calling SVSC's office of admissions at ext. 4200.

MIDLAND CLASS TO EXAMINE SOLAR ENERGY

This fall SVSC will offer a course which provides 'hands-on' experience with solar energy systems. Class meetings are scheduled at Chippewa Nature Center near Midland from 7:00 - 10:00 p.m. for 15 Thursdays beginning September 9.

According to Franklin Ford, retired Dow engineer who will teach the class, Chippewa's solar duplex naturalist residence will be utilized as a demonstration unit. "Students will be able to study solar greenhouse design and operation, as well as work with active solar roof panels for domestic hot water heating," he notes.

The course, titled "Solar Energy Systems," is designed for both homeowners and persons with a professional interest in solar energy. It includes discussion of fundamental concepts of solar radiation and types of active and passive solar systems for heating and cooling buildings.

Participants will learn how to do an energy audit and to perform economic evaluation of solar systems. Other topics to be covered are transfer and storage of heat, flat plate collectors, solar assisted heat pumps, and passive solar heating systems, including solar greenhouse design.

Ford brings to the classroom many years of experience in plant operations, engineering and energy conservation. He has inspected numerous domestic and commercial solar installations, both in the U.S. and Israel, and will share his findings with class registrants.

His tours of Israel were particularly enlightening, he feels. "Since they have no coal, gas or oil and little wood, Israel's population has been motivated to do extensive research into alternate energy sources," Ford points out. The tour group was able to inspect a solar power plant which generates electricity from hot brine, a hotel entirely heated and cooled by solar energy, and several plants which manufacture solar panels and other solar equipment," he adds.

"The Solar Decision Book" by Richard Montgomery and James Budnick will be used as the primary textbook for the course. Other reference books from the SVSC library will also be made available to class members.

Students can earn three semester hours of academic credit for the course, or they may opt to enroll on a non-credit basis. For information, contact the SVSC office of continuing education at ext. 4069.

FOOTBALL "MINI-CAMP" KICKS OFF NEW SEASON

The first sign of fall has arrived! Head Football Coach Jim Larkin and his staff held a "mini-camp." Sunday, for returning players and transfers.

The day-long session included various performance tests for strength, speed and agility to determine the progress of individual summer workouts. After the testing, the players were invited to attend a picnic lunch at Larkin's home.

"This is the first year we have attempted something like this," explained Larkin. "We're trying to develop the team unity by bringing everyone together in a social atmosphere, but the testing allows us to plot the improvement they have made with their off-season training."

The Cardinal rookies will arrive on campus, Sunday, August 22, and the veterans will come back for the official opening of fall drills on August 25.

PORTRAIT HOURS SET

To accommodate faculty and staff members who are on campus early in the day, photographer Dennis Ulrich has scheduled walk in hours from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. for the next two weeks. Personnel may come in without appointments during that time period to have portraits taken for the faculty/staff directory or our SVSC photo file. His studio is in Wickes Annex.

Other times may be arranged by phoning him at ext. 4086.
