- SCIENCE OPEN HOUSE, FOREIGN LANGUAGE DAY SCHEDULED
- VARIETY OF LECTURES SET FOR ANNIVERSARY WEEK
- SVSC/UNITED WAY OVER THE TOP

ANNIVERSARY SLATES DAYS FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

SVSC'S 20th anniversary week will offer events of interest to many people, including future college students. Area high school students will be able to test their foreign language skills and consider careers in science during special days on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 8 and 9.

Tuesday will feature the annual Science Open House where visitors will tour SVSC's science facilities and learn about the variety of scientific and technical careers available to them. Planners hope to make students aware of projected opportunities in the sciences, and career presentations will focus on specific academic curriculum and the value of a degree when a student enters the job market.

Events begin at 9:00 a.m. with an address by Dr. George Eastland, professor of chemistry, on "Cancer Treatment and Research -- Various Avenues." Eastland has conducted cancer research on campus with support from the Pardee Foundation.

Afterward, students will view career presentations by science departments and tour labs and facilities. Students interested in biology will be introduced to such techniques as DNA extraction and blood typing, as well as observing study on swamp ecology and an aquarium demonstration.

Representatives of the chemistry department will demonstrate instruments, chemical reactions, and applications of microcomputers. The math department will offer games and graphics on the Apple computer, plus a math magic show.

The nursing lab will present video tapes and simulated clinical models of nursing skills. White light holography and cryogenics are among the physics department displays. Students interested in engineering and technology can watch the department's robot and graphics computer operate.

For details on the day's events, call Jim Dwyer at ext. 4200 or the school of Science, Engineering and Technology at ext. 4144.

The eighth annual Foreign Language Day is slated for Wednesday. Activities for students and teachers of French, German, Latin, Polish and Spanish are planned on campus from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in Cardinal Gymnasium. Competition will be featured, with certificates and prizes awarded to winning entries in each event. Students will perform skits, song and dances of their own creation in any of five languages.

There will be a short address by the editor-in-chief for political affairs of Sueddeutscher Rundfunk Radio in Stuttgart, Germany. Dr. Roderich Klett has a background in history and political science and has worked in German radio and television.

An essay contest also will be conducted this year. Students were asked to write a 500 word paper on the topic "Foreign Culture(s) in Michigan -- Our Living Heritage." In addition to the competitions, visitors will be able to tour a fair with booths oriented toward the various cultures represented by each language. There also will be ethnic artifacts for sale, and movies of different cultures will be shown.

For more information on the program, call Dr. Ricardo Pastor at ext. 4486.

FACULTY PRESENTATIONS OPEN ANNIVERSARY

Four SVSC professors will deliver lectures as part of SVSC's 20th anniversary week. One presentation will be given each day, Monday through Thursday, November 7-10, at 12:30 p.m. in Wickes faculty lounge. The lectures are a result of fellowships each professor was awarded this summer by the National Endowment for the Humanities, allowing them to attend seminars and symposiums in their fields of expertise.

Dr. Drew E. Hinderer, associate professor of philosophy and English, will begin the series with a presentation of "Abelard's Ethics" on Monday. "'A Fair Crack at the South': Nixon, Kissinger, and the North Vietnamese, 1970-71" is the lecture slated for Tuesday by Dr. Eric Petersen, professor of history.

On Wednesday Dr. Charles Brown, professor of music, will discuss "Matsuri Bayashiy as a Teaching Tool." Dr. Dasha Culic Nisula, adjunct professor of English, will cap the series on Thursday with "Russian Formalism and Contemporary French Criticism."

CHINESE ARTIST VISITS SVSC

One of the premiere artists from the People's Republic of China will be on hand during SVSC's 20th Anniversary Week. Professor Xian-Rang Yong, director of the Central Institute of Fine Arts in Beijing, will exhibit his work in the SVSC Art Workshop Gallery Monday through Wednesday, November 7-9.

In addition, Yong will hold a fine arts workshop on Tuesday, November 8, at 3:00 p.m. and discuss "Oriental Oil Painting" on Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. The workshop will be conducted in the gallery and the oil painting discussion takes place in the art workshop.

Yong's work has been displayed in international exhibitions in France, Japan, Hong Kong, Yugoslavia, Romania and the Soviet Union. His initial degree from the Central Institute of Fine Arts was in oil painting, but he has become one of China's most noted woodcut artists. He is assistant master of exhibitions for the National Association of Woodcut Artists, and has published critiques on fine art.

Yong's presentations and exhibit are open to the public free of charge.

LEADING EDUCATOR TO SPEAK

A former United States Commissioner of Education will speak here Wednesday, November 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the SVSC Theatre. Dr. Ernest L. Boyer, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, will discuss "The Future of American Education and Its Teachers."

Boyer has worked for school and college reform for three decades and was selected by his peers as the nation's leading educator in a 1983 survey. One of his most recent works was High School: A Report on Secondary Education in America. The study was based on his conviction that the high school is the most crucial and unifying institution for strengthening education in America.

Boyer's presentation is part of SVSC's 20th Anniversary Week. For reservations and information, please call ext. 4419.

3M SCIENTIST PRESENTS FINDINGS

A top researcher for 3M will present two lectures during SVSC's 20th Anniversary Week. Dr. Louis A. Errede of 3M's Central Research Lab will speak on Thursday, November 10 at 1:30 p.m. in Wickes lecture hall and at 7:30 p.m. in the SVSC theatre.

"The Effect of Hydrogen Bonding on the Reactivity and Selectivity of Organic Reactions" is Errede's afternoon topic. His evening lecture is titled "The Interaction Between Growing Plants and Special Membranes Regulating the Flow of Nutrients."

For more information, please call the school of Science, Engineering and Technology at ext. 4144.

SVSC TO HOST CRIME SEMINAR

SVSC and area organizations will conduct a crime prevention seminar on Thursday, November 10, from 9:30 a.m. to noon in Doan Center. This seminar is first in a series planned by the newly formed Saginaw Valley Businesses Against Crime Association and SVSC's department of criminal justice to provide area merchants with information on theft and fraud. The three-hour program will cover armed robbery, internal theft, shoplifting prevention, plus criminal use of credit cards, checks and counterfeit currency. For more information, call Kathi Curtiss at ext. 4162.

BRIEFLY SPEAKING - EVENTS & INFORMATION

--Bob Hanes, director of engineering services, has moved from Wickes Annex to the '68 building, next door to plant services. His new extension is 4081.

--Dean of Students Philip Beal is accepting nominations for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges until 4:30 p.m. Thursday, November 10. To be eligible, a student should have demonstrated scholastic ability, leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, and citizenship and service to the college, and should have the potential for future achievement. Only currently enrolled juniors, seniors, and graduate students may be considered for nomination. Forms are available in the offices of student government, Dean of Students and academic deans. For more information, call the Dean of Students' office at ext. 4294.

--The Bookstore has just received copies of the latest book by Dr. Ernest Boyer, who will speak at SVSC on November 9. High School, A Report of Secondary Education in America is for sale at $15. Plaques commemorating SVSC's 20th anniversary are available for $4.95.

-- The Valley Vanguard is seeking a business manager. Applicants must be currently enrolled SVSC students, and should have academic preparation and/or work experience in accounting or marketing. Applications are available in the Dean of Students' office, and will be accepted until Monday, November 7.

--Dr. William Barnett, dean of the school of arts and sciences, is chairing the search committee for a director of sponsored programs. He is requesting help from the campus community in compiling a strong pool of candidates from within the college and externally. The position will be available January 1 and filled no later than July 1. Applications are due in Vice President of Academic Affairs Dr. Robert Yien's office by November 18. Copies of the job announcement are available from Barnett or other members of the search committee: Dr. Crystal Lange, Dr. Suk Koo Yun, Dr. Elaine Stephens, Dr. William Elliot and Ms. Amy Ferguson. Campus visits by finalists are planned for early December with open meetings for faculty and staff to interview candidates.

--SVSC has surpassed its United Way goal, with $9,205 contributed to date. Norma Gase, coordinator of the SVSC drive, is pleased with the success of the campaign, and notes that pledges still will be accepted.

--Dr. Ricardo Pastor, chairman of the international studies committee, is looking for families to host international students during Thanksgiving. Persons interested in assisting with this project are asked to contact Pastor at ext. 4486 to indicate the number of students they would accommodate. Host families may specify the area of the world of interest to them.

--The Polish Lecture Series continues Wednesday, November 2, with a presentation by Dr. Leonard Chrobot of St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake. He will discuss "New Ethnicity and the Polish American Experience" at a meeting set for 7:00 p.m. in the Wickes faculty lounge. The next lecture, set for November 9, has been postponed. Instead, Dr. Anna Dadlez will present her lecture on November 16, and Dr. Cezary Mendelius will conclude the series on November 30.

--Pam Binder of the SVSC Foundation reports that unofficial results from the Cardinal Run show 280 runners were backed by approximately 2,100 sponsors. Binder said those figures compare favorably with past years, adding her thanks to all who volunteered their time and support to the fund raiser.

--Assistant Professor of Nursing Peggy Flatt asks that all faculty questionnaires from the Committee To Allocate Grant Funds be returned to 129 Pioneer Hall by November 7.

--The deadline for the Winter Calendar of Events is fast approaching. Media Coordinator Bruce Rossman will be collecting information until November 8 about campus events of interest to the public. If you have an activity you wish included in the calendar, call Rossman at ext. 4054.

--All faculty, staff, or alumni interested in playing in an SVSC Alumni vs. Faculty/Staff basketball game at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, November 12, should call Joe Vogl at ext. 4085. The contest precedes the varsity men's season opener against the "alumni varsity" team. Admission is free.

--The National Issues Forum has planned a series of open meetings in the Saginaw area. The schedule includes discussions of "Priorities for the Nation's Schools" at 7:00 p.m. on November 9 and 23 at Eisenhower High School, and November 16 and 30 at Ruben Daniels Lifelong Learning Center. "Nuclear Arms and National Security" will be the topic of a November 17 meeting at Ruben Daniels Center, while "The Deficit and the Federal Budget Process" will be examined at Saginaw's Radisson Inn on November 8 at 7:30 p.m. "Jobs and Productivity" will be the topic of a 4:00-8:00 p.m. meeting on November 16 in Saginaw Civic Center's Unity Hall. SVSC is among sponsoring organizations for the series. For more information, call 752-7161.

--The Entrepreneurship Club will hear Howard Diamond, founder and part owner of Diamond Electrotech, Inc., and Transidyne, speak on "Entrepreneurship and Sigmund Freud" at its next meeting. The group will begin with a 6:30 p.m. social hour in Doan Center on Thursday, November 17. Membership in the club is open to persons who own or are interested in starting their own small business. For information, call BIDI at ext. 4048.

ACROSS CAMPUS

--Dr. Anna Dadlez, associate professor of modern foreign languages, will speak in the Skalny Lecture and Artist Series at St. John Fisher College in Rochester, New York on November 12. "The Female Image in Post World War II Polish Literature" is her topic. She will repeat the address for the Women's Studies Program at Syracuse University on April 1.

HIGH FIVE

The SVSC football team hung on for a 9-7 victory over Wayne State Saturday to remain unbeaten in the GLIAC with a 4-0 record.

The Cardinals scored on a 39-yard pass from Rusty Mandle to Ron Moore in the first quarter. A safety by linebacker Dave Hurst in the third quarter broke a 7-7 tie and provided the winning score for SVSC. The Cards dodged a bullet with 1:30 left in the game when Scott Peterson and Owen Bush blocked a Tartar field goal attempt from 31 yards out. SVSC is now 6-2 overall and can clinch at least a share of the GLIAC title this Saturday when the Cards travel to winless Ferris.

While the Cards' top 13 cross country runners rested, the second group of 16 traveled to Detroit for the "Emily and Pooh and Detroit, Too" five-mile run Saturday. All 16 finished in the top 24 among the 12,000 runners at the race. Troy Ouellette finished third, followed by Jeff Bristow (4th), Robert Lenuel (5th), Paul Richmond (7th), and Rueben Henderson (8th). SVSC will try for its fourth straight NAIA District 23 title in Spring Arbor this Saturday.

The Cardinal bowling squad opened the season in impressive fashion by winning the all events team title at Bloomington, Indiana last weekend. SVSC finished ahead of host Indiana University and defending national champion Vincennes in the nine-team invitational. A pair of freshmen led the charge for the Cards. Ken Fishman was the all events individual champion with a 1,945 nine-game total, while teammate Darryl Slauter finished third (1,871). Fishman also won the singles title with a 698 score, including games of 241, 258, and 199.
