MARCH 27, 1984

EVENT PLANNED TO HONOR LOCAL POET

On Thursday, April 5, a current poet from Alabama will pay tribute to a Saginaw poet whose work has gained international recognition since his death in 1963. Professor R. T. Smith of Auburn University will speak on the work of Theodore Roethke at a lecture set for 8:00 p.m. in Doan Center. The observance is one of several events marking the twentieth anniversary of the College. It is open to the public free of charge, and a reception will follow the program.

Though his professional life was spent away from Saginaw, Roethke maintained contacts here through family and friends. His writing was influenced and often inspired by his Saginaw childhood.

Dr. Raymond Tyner, professor of English at SVSC and one of the organizers of the Roethke evening, notes that Roethke's poetry ranges from "lyrical responses to nature to some very complex studies of the human condition. Last summer was the twentieth anniversary of the death of Theodore Roethke, and we thought that as a local institution, it would be appropriate to do something to honor his memory," Tyner said. The result was publication of a commemorative issue of the Green River Review and an invitation for Professor Smith to visit SVSC to celebrate Roethke's work.

Smith is a member of the English department at Auburn and author of "Critical Introduction to the Poetry of Theodore Roethke. Following Smith's lecture, Dr. Tyner will present the Theodore Roethke Poetry Award, the Green River Review Poetry Award, a journalism award for opinion and news, and the International Poetry Review Award to student writers.

For more information, contact Dr. Tyner at ext. 4376 or Dr. Basil Clark at ext. 4312.

STUDENT GROUPS HOST ARTISTIC CABARET

The Valley Vanguard and Cardinal Sins staffs will host their second annual artistic event on Thursday, April 5, from 11:30 to 3:00 p.m. in lower Doan. The "Non-Stop Cabaret" will feature numerous student presentations. Poetry readings, dance, musical performances, student-made movies, and a student art exhibit are planned. Winners of the campus writing contest will be announced that afternoon. The event is open to the campus community free of charge. For more information, call the Vanguard office at ext. 4248.

SVSC HOSTING HISTORY DAY

Area students researching "The Family and Community in History" will participate in SVSC's History Day on Saturday, April 7. The event is part of a nation-wide program to stimulate a greater interest in history, and will be held in Doan Center from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Junior high and high school students will prepare theme projects in six categories. Winners from the SVSC regional will advance to the state final in Detroit, with hopes of qualifying for the national competition in Washington, D.C.

"History Day hopefully will encourage students to look at history in something other than textbook terms," said Dr. Thomas Renna, professor of history and a regional organizer for the event. "This is a chance for them to do something outside of the classroom and try the research skills historians use."

SVSC is the site of the region 5 competition, covering northeastern Michigan and the Thumb. The day's events are open to the public, free of charge. For more information, call Renna at ext. 4363.

DELTA, SVSC TO HONOR POLISH MARTYR

Janusz Korczak chose devotion to the orphaned children he befriended over personal safety. That choice cost him his life.

A well-known author, educator, physician and scholar during the 1919 to 1939 interwar period in Poland, Korczak was the founder of a national system of orphanages that still bear his name. He was martyred during the Nazi occupation of Poland when he refused to save himself, choosing instead to remain with his orphans. He was murdered along with his children in a concentration camp.

On Sunday, April 8, Delta College and SVSC will be hosting an event in memory of Korczak. Faculty and students from the departments of history, humanities, and literature of both colleges will be involved, and SVSC's Institute of Polish Studies is assisting with arrangements.

The program, to be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Delta's Fine Arts Auditorium, includes student presentations, panel discussions, readings from Korczak's writings, and a performance by guest pianist Leszek Bartkiewicz. A highlight of the afternoon will be an address by Dr. Richard Burks on "Poles and Jews as Martyr Peoples."

Dr. Burks is an emeritus professor of history at Wayne State University, where he began to teach in 1937. He specialized in the history of Eastern Europe, including the area where the Polish people are located and where, prior to the Holocaust, the Ashkenazic branch of the Jewish people were concentrated. Burks's principal work is The Dynamics of Communism in Eastern Europe. In addition to teaching at Wayne, he has 15 years of government service, including four years as policy director of Radio Free Europe in Munich.

The program is open to the public free of charge. Light refreshments will be served. For more information, call SVSC's Institute of Polish Studies at ext. 4315.

PROFESSOR HOSTS AUTOGRAPH SESSION

Dr. Charles Brown, professor of music at SVSC and author of two books on rock and roll, will be at B. Dalton's Bookstore in Hampton Square Mall Saturday, March 31, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. to sign copies of "The Rock and Roll Story: From the Sounds of Rebellion to an American Art Form."

The book is a popular version of a college textbook published in 1983 on rock and roll. It covers the roots of rock music, influential groups, technology and electronics used in rock, and lists a discography and rock hall of fame. "The Art of Rock and Roll" was Brown's first book, and one of the first college textbooks on the subject. Its success prompted publisher Prentice-Hall to ask that Brown edit the book for sale to the general public.

STUDENT RIGHTS MEETINGS OPEN

A committee has been established to assess student rights and responsibilities and draft a document for SVSC. The group meets every Thursday at 1:00 p.m. in the Wickes Annex conference room and visitors are welcome. For more information or input, contact these committee members: Students -- Greg Gerard, Julie Goebel, Mike Korn, Gene Martens, Bruce Nordin, Sue Weisenberger; faculty and staff -- Phil Beal, William Gourd, Mary Graiver, Robin Kapala, Chris Looney, and Alex Ross.

SPOTS OPEN IN HARNESS RACING CLASS

Several openings remain in "Harness Racing: the Sport and the Business." The class will meet Saturdays, beginning April 14, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. at the Midland fairgrounds. Professional horsemen will teach this course on America's oldest native sport. Topics include skills of breeding, training and driving a harness racehorse, employment opportunities in the sport, and handicapping and reading a race form. There will be trips to the local harness track. The fee for the 10-week course is $45. For more information, call the SVSC continuing education office at ext. 4162.

BLOCKPRINTS FINAL GALLERY EXHIBITION

Blockprints by Nancy R. Davison will be featured in the last Art Gallery exhibition this semester. Davison, a former Ann Arbor artist, will exhibit a collection of woodcuts and linocuts April 4-18. "In Maine, I spend a lot of time sitting on a rock drawing, generally with my back to the ocean," she said. "I'm interested in the buildings, the spaces between them and their relationships to the landscape." She earned a bachelor's degree in art from Smith College, and her master's degree and Ph. D. in the program for American culture at the University of Michigan. Admission to the gallery is free. For gallery hours, call the fine arts office at ext. 4159.

BRIEFLY SPEAKING - EVENTS & INFORMATION

--The next language panel series will be held on Wednesday, March 28, at 12:30 p.m. in Wickes Faculty Lounge. "Language and Professional Disciplines" is the program title, and panelists will discuss aspects of language as practiced in their discipline. Dr. Kay Harley, associate professor of English, Dr. Donald Bachand, associate professor of criminal justice, and Dr. Donald Wiseman, professor of accounting, will speak. The program is open to the campus community.

--Information booths on scholarships and financial aid will be open across campus today through Friday. Students, faculty and staff are invited to stop at the booths for financial aid information.

--Brian Todd will present the mix of mimicry and humor he calls "new impressionism" at the next salad bar series tomorrow. Todd will perform from noon to 1:00 p.m. He has a repertoire of over sixty talking and singing voices, from Mr. Rogers teasing the tots with power tools, to the Bee Gees burning alive in a disco inferno. Admission is free. For more information, call MaryAnne Lustgraaf at ext. 4260.

--College faculty will attend a dinner in recognition of SVSC's 20th Anniversary on Friday, March 30. Dr. Leslie Whittaker, professor of English, will serve as master of ceremonies, and Donna J. Roberts, assistant general counsel to the Dow Chemical Co. will be the evening's main speaker. Roberts is serving on the National Task Force on Education for Economic Growth in 1984, and will discuss the organization's recommendations. Whittaker will give a presentation titled "An Outsider's Inside View of the College (A Chronicle of the Events and Times of SVSC, Collected by Dr. Leslie Whittaker with the Aid of a Telescope, a Microscope, and a Stethoscope). Faculty are requested to contact Elaine Schnepf at ext. 4235.

--Students who performed well academically or have given outstanding service to SVSC will be presented certificates at Student Recognition and Appreciation Day on Thursday, April 12. MaryAnne Lustgraaf, coordinator of campus activities, says that campus community members wishing to honor students for service to the college are welcome to participate. Certificates for general appreciation or outstanding student employee will be available this week. Those wishing to participate in the program should contact Lustgraaf at ext. 4260 by April 2.

--Mr. Pearce Grove, a candidate for the position of Director of Library and Learning Resources, will be on campus Thursday, March 29. Members of the campus community can meet with him at 11:00 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. in Wickes Faculty Lounge. For more information, call Dr. Guy M. Lee, search committee chairman, at ext. 4059.

--The Saginaw Valley Foreign Language Association's next meeting is Wednesday, April 4, at 6:00 p.m. in Wickes Faculty Lounge. Karen Minard will share her experiences in Spain during an educational leave of absence. Dr. Lynn Herkstroeter also will speak, reporting on the progress of SVSC's individualized French program. For more information, call Dr. Ricardo Pastor at ext. 4486.

ACROSS CAMPUS

--Ms. Rose Collamer, Dr. Dasha Culic-Nisula, and Dr. Rosalie Riegle Troester, members of SVSC's English faculty, will travel to New York this week to attend the National Conference on College Composition and Communication. Nisula, an adjunct faculty member, will serve as recorder for the session titled "Responding to Student Writing." Troester, an associate professor, will present a paper titled "Discovering Ourselves: Using Directed Journals to Teach Feminist Literature."

--Gary Laatsch, adjunct art instructor, recently won awards in two statewide juried exhibitions. A sculpture titled "Vacant Villa" earned him a $200 award in the Artrain competition. The traveling Artrain exhibit will be on display throughout the state from March through June. Laatsch won second prize in the 12th Michigan Annual Exhibitions at the Arts Center of Mt. Clemens. He received a $300 award for "Find the Zebras and Sign with a Z."

--Tom Waske, sports information director, received an award at the recent National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Sports Information Directors' Association convention in Kansas City. He won first place in the division I football brochure contest for last fall's media guide.

--Lynda Dresser, an SVSC alumnae, has been named Director of Blood Donor Resources for the Saginaw Valley Blood Program.

HIGH FIVE

The women's softball team is 2-2 on their spring trip through the South. They dropped a doubleheader on Saturday to Florida State University 1-0, and 7-2. Florida A & M forfeited a pair on Sunday. Cardinal Kelly Hughes pitched a one-hitter in Saturday's shutout loss, but two errors allowed the runner to score. Pitcher Cindy Wegner threw a four-hitter in the 7-2 loss, while Sandy MacDonald collected two hits.

SVSC's men's track team broke three school records Friday at the Eastern Michigan University Invitational. Steve Wyckoff cleared 6'8" in the high jump to claim first place, and John Robinson won the hammer throw with a heave of 170'4". The 4x200 relay team of Mike Topolewski, Wallace Hearn, Brian Doyle, and Brad King placed second with a 1:29.5 clocking.

DR. DICKEY ADDS NEW ASSIGNMENT

Dr. Ann K. Dickey, director of institutional research and planning, has been assigned responsibility for coordinating college-federal government relations. The new assignment is in addition to her present duties.

In announcing her new duties, President Jack M. Ryder said, "I recognize that SVSC must assume on a more consistent basis responsibility for commenting on federal legislation that affects Michigan higher education." He hopes to increase cooperation in development of methods for broadening access to Michigan higher education and improving the quality of education which Michigan institutions are able to provide.

"My main responsibility is commenting on legislation that affects this college and higher education in general," Dr. Dickey said. "I will from time to time also ask support from legislators for our grant applications," Dickey said, but added that interaction with granting agencies will remain the responsibility of the director of sponsored programs.

She expects most of her contacts with legislators to be by mail or phone, with infrequent travel to Washington for personal contact. Dr. Dickey also will maintain communication with the Governmental Relations Office of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

"Members of the college community who have knowledge of concerns or issues that would need to be raised with members of Congress or federal officials are invited to discuss them with me," Dickey said.

SVSC SENIOR RECEIVES AWARD

Michelle Tanner has been named recipient of a 1984 AFSV Scholarship award. A senior marketing major, Tanner was selected by a committee of faculty and administrators who reviewed her application and scholastic record. Recipients are chosen on the basis of academic performance, plus evidence of character and leadership. The $300 AFSV grant, offered for the first time this year, was one of three provided by the Advertising Federation of Saginaw Valley to encourage continued progress by students in advertising, journalism or marketing. For information about the AFSV scholarship, contact Dr. James Mitchell at ext. 4064.
