TAX CUT PROPOSAL LIKELY ON FALL BALLOT

As of July 9, it appeared that a coalition of tax limitation groups would be successful in their quest to have a proposal placed on the November 6 ballot. Petitions with 351,684 signatures were filed with state officials on that date, and if 304,001 of these signatures survive challenges from opponents of the measure, the question will appear on the fall ballot.

Called "Voter's Choice," the proposal would amend Article IX, Sections 1 and 2, of the state constitution to:

* Require a popular vote on the adoption of any new tax or any legislative change in the base or rate of a state or local tax that would result in an increase in revenue.

* Require that increases in state or local fees, licenses, permits, etc. be approved either by a 4/5 vote of the appropriate governing body or by a majority of the voters in an election.

* Make the above requirements retroactive to December 31, 1981.

* Prohibit local non-resident income tax rates of more than .5 percent.

* Require that ballot proposals on tax questions must state the total anticipated revenue, the intended use of the revenue and the expiration date.

According to analysts, the Voter's Choice proposal would have two primary effects on state and local governments. First, they say, the proposal would have an immediate impact on state and local finances, since taxes would be rolled back to 1981 levels. Second, the relationship between the legislature and Michigan voters regarding the power to tax would be significantly altered.

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan estimates the proposal would reduce state tax revenues by approximately $1,036 million on an annual basis. The Economic Alliance for Michigan pegs projected revenue losses more conservatively at $950 million, plus $500 million annually shifted from taxes on Michigan businesses from the state to the federal government. They say approximately $430 million of the annual loss would come from funding for education, economic development, and social programs, with another $215 million cut from the transportation fund. Finally, they estimate $300 million would disappear from payments scheduled to reduce the state's accumulated cash deficit, thereby harming credit ratings.

Opponents say the proposal would undermine principles of the system of representative government in Michigan by eliminating the requirement for the legislature to resolve public policy issues involving revenue increases, and substituting frequent and costly elections to act on proposed tax increases and related policy issues.

Questions raised by Voter's Choice would likely be resolved in court, according to Douglas C. Drake, staff director for Rep. H. Lynn Jondahl, chairman of the House Taxation Committee. Among the questions Drake foresees are several key issues:

* When and how are determinations to be made of what is to go to the voters?

* Are tax credits part of the base of a tax?

* Are college and university tuition and fees considered under this proposal?

Drake raises many other points of interest. For a complete text of his remarks, or copies of the proposal language, please contact the President's Office or Information Services.
The second year of a federal grant assisting registered nurses in earning a bachelor's degree at SVSC has been approved. The Department of Health and Human Services has released $179,760 for the school of nursing's program. The grant project facilitates nurses from diploma and associate degree programs to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN).

In 1983-84, the grant totaled $134,608 for its first year of implementation, and approximately $178,945 is earmarked for 1985-86 academic year.

"I'm very pleased that funding is continuing," said project coordinator Janalou Blecke, associate professor of nursing. "We've developed a solid program and now have 100 nurses from this area, the Thumb and northern Michigan working toward their BSNs." The project is targeted for nurses who are working and cannot attend classes during the day, or travel to SVSC's main campus, Blecke said.

The grant has enabled SVSC to hire additional staff, and offer courses at convenient times. "Nurses can now attend summer, evening and weekend classes," Blecke said. "We've also been able to offer instruction at the Caro Skills Center, and at Alpena General Hospital in conjunction with our center in Oscoda."

Blecke noted that response to the program is well ahead of projections, and is expecting more nurses to enroll this fall. "Nurses should be aware that we only have funding for these additional classes during the next two years, so they should use this opportunity while it lasts," she cautioned.

The grant proposal grew out of requests by two-year RNs for a program that would fit their jobs and schedules, according to Dr. Crystal Lange, dean of the School of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences. Lange also noted that communities will benefit from the project, pointing out that patients will receive improved quality care because of a BSN's broader knowledge and skills.

"Besides having greater knowledge in nursing skills, a BSN offers more career opportunities," Lange said. "Nurses with degrees have an advantage in promotions in hospitals, and BSN's are required for many community health programs."

SVSC's chemistry program will remain accredited by the American Chemical Society (ACS) on the strength of a recent evaluation. ACS recently completed a review of the chemistry department's re-evaluation report, stating that the college continues to meet their guidelines. SVSC, which has been accredited since 1973, is required to submit a re-evaluation report every five years.

According to chemistry department chairman Dr. Albert C. Plaush, accreditation by an organization as prestigious as ACS is a reflection of the quality of SVSC's program. ACS evaluates such factors as the number of classroom and laboratory hours required, overall curriculum, faculty qualifications, and facilities, Plaush said.

ACS is a nonprofit organization established by Congress, comprised of chemists from industry and academic institutions.

SVSC HOSTING FOREIGN STUDENTS

Citizens from Saginaw's sister city will spend the next five weeks at SVSC. Three students and a professor from Shikoku Women's University (SWU) in Tokushima, Japan, arrived July 16 to study American education and culture. They will reside in SVSC's dormitories.

Miki Mandokoro, Azuka Omi, and Kaoru Nishioka will divide their time between classroom instruction in intermediate English, and field trips throughout the community and state. They also will meet with SVSC professors in their respective majors. Professor Shigemitsu Miyamoto will accompany the women.

Also visiting SVSC for several weeks is Jiyul Yoo, a student at Seoul National University in Korea. He will sit in on some of the classes for the Japanese students before visiting relatives.

The Japanese group is part of an exchange program SVSC has developed through its emphasis on international education. Each spring a group of female SVSC students visit SWU to study Japanese culture and language, and the schools also have exchanged professors. Professor Sekiyo Kondoh of SWU completed a one-year stay with SVSC last week, and Dr. John V. Jezierski, professor of history, recently returned from a year-long teaching assignment at SWU.
