ADULTS ALSO LEARN AT SVSC CHILDREN'S CENTER

Experience is said to be the best teacher, and at the SVSC Children's Center, the children are not the only ones learning. Each semester, several SVSC students from the nursing, social work and education curriculums spend a minimum of 30 hours at the center for teaching, interacting, and at other times just observing the children.

"This interaction works out well for both groups involved," said Teacher/Coordinator Brenda Lee. "It's wonderful for the college students to be able to do field work right on campus, and for the children it's an exciting learning experience because of all of the new ideas pumped in by the students."

Lee, who is in her first year at the center, came to the area upon leaving the position of program coordinator for the Eastminster Children's Development Center in East Lansing. Lee holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in elementary education from the University of Michigan, and a Master of Arts Degree in early childhood development from Oakland University.

"In the case of the education students, they come in and present between 70 and 100 new activities per term," added Lee. "The plans are developed between the students, the course instructor and myself. Activities and plans are graded by the assistant teacher here at the center, Bonnie Witske, and Teacher's Aide Cindy Tithof."

Joanne Hopper, a sophomore elementary education major from Cass City, is currently conducting her field work at the center for an education class.

"During the semester I will spend at least 30 hours at the center, and prepare and present 10 lesson plans in the various areas of art, discovery, a dramatic play, group time, and..."
NEW CHILD CARE PROGRAM AVAILABLE FOR LOW-INCOME STUDENTS

Faculty and staff can assist students by announcing a new $180,000 full-day pilot program aimed at three and four year old children of low-income parents who are trying to further their education. Saginaw County Child Development Centers, Inc., is one of 25 agencies in the country selected to operate the local "Head Start" effort. The program offers education, health, nutrition, mental health and social services free of charge for six to eight hours a day.

To participate in the home day care program, parents must be college, vocational or adult education students who have long or irregular school schedules; and must provide transportation for children. Providers are required to be State licensed and must complete training by state and local agencies.

Students who would like to be directed to a child care provider should contact Carol Sparapani, Head Start coordinator, by calling 752-2193, extension 34.

SVSC OFFERS COURSE ON SOVIET UNION

SVSC is offering a three-credit hour political science course that focuses on the Soviet Union. The course, which begins January 7, will meet at Midland High School on Tuesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Students enrolled in "Political Science 307" will study the government and politics of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic, including the historical origins, development and practices of Soviet Communism.

Dr. Anna R. Dadlez, associate professor of Polish, will be the instructor. Dadlez, who was born in Poland, has personal experience with Russian politics. During World War II, she and her mother were deported to Kazakhstan USSR for three years. Dadlez also has lived in Iran for three years, in Lebanon for three years, and in England for eight years. She arrived in the United States in 1956, and was naturalized in 1961.

Students may register in advance at the Midland High School cafeteria on Monday, December 16, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. In addition, on-campus registration will be held November 18 through 27 and December 2 through 11. For further information contact Gerald Suvant at extension 4066.

ART DEPARTMENT HOSTS GUEST ARTIST

William Weege, professor of art at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, will be artist-in-residence at the Saginaw Valley State College Art Department on December 4 and 5, 1985.

After completing his degrees at the University of Wisconsin in 1968, Weege spent two years as director of the experimental workshop of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C., before returning to the University to join the printmaking faculty.

Weege has the reputation of being an unorthodox and effective teacher on campus and off. In 1970 he spent a year in Venice, Italy, as head of the Smithsonian Institution's Print Workshop at the Venice Biennale. In 1977 he was visiting professor at the University of California, Davis, and has been involved in projects in San Francisco, New York and at his own Jones Road Printshop in Wisconsin.

In his work Weege has explored materials not commonly used in art: flocking, glitter, glass beads, stitching, die cutting and photo collage. The subject matter, originally political, gradually changed as eventually decorative elements began to dominate. His favored art materials are those that he can find outside of an art store. His favored techniques are whatever meets his needs at the moment.

Weege's work has been exhibited at the Art Institute of Chicago, Cleveland Art Institute, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art and the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

HOW SWEET IT IS--Students from Bridgeport High School celebrate a sweep of the dance competitions held during Foreign Language Day. Some 400 students from area high schools participated in the event held in SVSC's Cardinal Gymnasium on Wednesday, November 6.

The Cardinal football team defeated Grand Valley State College 35-18, before 1,000 fans braving Saturday's miserable weather conditions. It was a big day for the seniors as Mike Leibinger, Tony Jones and Bryon Krukowski led the offensive show with 384 yards rushing and five touchdowns between them. Defensively, senior inside linebacker Darrell Bartkowiak had probably the biggest and most important stop of the game while another senior, Dave Cramton, blocked a punt that led to another SVSC touchdown. Despite the senior heroics, the Cardinals finished second in the final GLIAC standings to Hillsdale College, which defeated Northwood Institute 30-0 Saturday. SVSC finished with a 4-1-1 GLIAC record, and 4-5-1 overall. In Saturday's game, it was all Saginaw Valley right from the opening coin toss. Taking the ball from their own 32-yard line, the Cards marched 68 yards on 11 plays for the first score of the game. Grand Valley came right back, gaining good field position after Laker tailback Ray Buckner broke off a 48-yard run. Later Buckner scored on a nine-yard run to bring his team within one, 7-6. SVSC scored touchdowns on four of its five possessions in the first half. In the game, Tony Jones tied a GLIAC record of 9 TDs in league games, and also broke the GLIAC season record for rushing with 866 total yards.

Saginaw Valley's soccer club won its final season match, defeating Northwood 2-1. The win leaves the club with a 4-5-1 record. Coach Robert Braddock said plans are underway for an intramural soccer league that will be held indoors in Cardinal Gym this winter. For further information, contact Kim Haller at ext. 4067 or Braddock at ext. 4360.
