RE: LIBRARY SUMMER HOURS FOR INTERIOR.

Marilyn I am enclosing another copy of the library summer hours to be published in the next interior in case you did not find the previous copy I sent. Per our phone conversation, I thought I had better send you another copy in case we both forgot to remind each other before the next interior deadline.

In any case, if you do find the master I had previously sent you please use that as it is much better than this xerox copy, I do not need either copy back. Please also put as a seperate insert in the interior, and make it a color other than green as this was the last color used.

Thank you.

THREE TO RECEIVE HONORARY DEGREES

Two former Board of Control members and a local merchant have been selected to receive honorary doctorates from SVSC at its May 2 and 3 commencement ceremonies.

Mrs. Dorothy D. "Honey" Arbury will receive a Doctor of Fine Arts degree. She has played a major role in the development of SVSC. Mrs. Arbury is one of two people who served on SVSC's governing board since the school's inception. After more than 22 years of service, she did not seek reappointment when her most recent term on the Board of Control expired last July.

Mrs. Arbury is a graduate of Kingswood School and she attended Connecticut College for Women. Events surrounding World War II temporarily changed her priorities and she left college to become a "war wife."

When not following her husband on various assignments, she worked as a teacher's helper in a private nursery school. She also worked in the Home Service Division of American Red Cross for two years.

Following the war years, Mrs. Arbury made her home in Midland. She served ten years as a member of the board of Midland Public Library. During that time the Grace A. Dow

John W. Kendall will be awarded a Doctor of Laws degree. He was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, and moved to Detroit with his family in December of 1940. He attended both parochial and public schools, but dropped out of high school in the tenth grade. For the next several years, he worked as a railroad porter in Canada and a factory worker in the Detroit area. He was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1952, and upon discharge returned to Detroit and his former job with Bohn Aluminum and Brass.

The need to continue his education became apparent, so he earned a G.E.D. and then attended several institutions of higher learning, earning credits toward a Bachelor's Degree. He received a B.S. in biology and education from Wayne State University in 1963 at the age of 32, and for the next three years taught science in the Detroit Public Schools.

In 1966 Kendall began working for Chrysler Corporation as a stamping foreman. During the twenty years since he joined Chrysler, he has held 26

James R. Krohn also will receive a Doctor of Laws degree. He was born in Saginaw on December 11, 1924, and has been a resident of Saginaw all his life. His only extended period away from the city was for a three-year tour of duty with the U. S. Army during World War II. He served with distinction, and was awarded the Bronze Star for bravery in duty.

Krohn long has been active in the commercial and civic life of Saginaw. As president of Seitner's of Saginaw, he has experienced directly the changes that have taken place in the city and surrounding communities. Under his leadership, Seitner's has maintained its reputation as a family-owned retail clothing store catering to the needs and tastes of local customers. Several years ago, Seitner's opened an outlet in Fashion Square Mall. The original store on Federal Street continues to serve downtown shoppers, and there are two stores in Bay City.

Krohn is a member of Downtown Kiwanis and of the Saginaw Grace A. Dow Memorial Library was planned and built. She served ten years on the advisory board of Salvation Army and was instrumental in raising funds for a new building for that organization.

Her interest in art led to a two-year term on the exhibitions committee of the Midland Art Council. She served on the Saginaw Art Museum Board of Trustees for two years and on their exhibitions committee for three years. She was the first woman to be appointed to the Board of Trustees of Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Her work on behalf of SVSC began during the College's first two years as a private school, 1963-65. When Governor George Romney signed the charter making SVSC a state college, she was appointed to its first Board of Control. She has been among the institution's most dedicated supporters, contributing time and energy as well as material resources. She took an active role in implementing the fundraising campaign that led to the construction of the Pioneer Hall of Engineering and Technology. More recently, she has provided key leadership for the Midland community committee seeking funding for SVSC's new Fine Arts Center, which will include the Marshall M. Fredericks Sculpture Gallery. She continues to serve on the Board of Directors of the SVSC Foundation.

Mrs. Arbury's husband, Ned, president of A. S. Arbury and Sons, was recognized with an SVSC honorary degree in 1983.

A native of Midland, Mrs. Arbury is the mother of two grown children and has five grandchildren.

different jobs in 14 locations. He currently serves on the corporate Industrial Relations staff. While employed by Chrysler, he has attended graduate school at Wayne State University and the University of Detroit. In 1978, with Chrysler's sponsorship, he completed the Executive Development Program at U-of-M.

Following the civil unrest in the late 60's, Kendall became committed to bringing racial harmony both to Chrysler and the community at large. During 1969 and 1970, he spent six months on loan to the "New Detroit, Inc." staff and still is a member of the Public Safety and Justice Committee. He served several years on the Vickery Committee, appointed by the mayor and police commissioner.

In 1969 Kendall was appointed by Governor William Milliken to the SVSC Board of Control. His tenure began just as the school was dedicating its campus. During his 16 1/2 years on the SVSC Board, Kendall attended countless meetings and rarely missed a major college event. He served as vice chairperson of the Board for seven years and chairperson for the past five years. He worked to help the people of the Saginaw Valley realize their desire for an institution of higher learning, and helped those directly connected with the school to carry out the building of that dream. He also served on the SVSC Foundation and is an active supporter of the Cardinal athletic program.

Kendall and his wife, Kathy, live in Southfield with their two children, Kristin and John IV, who are students at Southfield High School.

Kristin will enter SVSC as a freshman this fall. Kendall's married daughter, Karen Hurley, who attended SVSC as a freshman and sophomore, earned her B.S. from Michigan State University. She teaches the hearing impaired at Detroit Public Schools.

Historical Society. He serves on the advisory board of the Saginaw Art Museum. He is a director for PRIDE - a community-based group working for "Positive Results in a Downtown Environment." He also has served as a director of Downtown Saginaw, Inc. and as director of Saginaw Central Area Inc.

He served a term as president of the retail division of the Saginaw Chamber of Commerce. He was a director of the American Red Cross and chairman of "Service to Military Families" for Saginaw County and a vice president of United Way of Saginaw County. From 1966 to 1969 and again from 1971 to 1975 he was a member of the Board of Trustees governing Saginaw General Hospital. A member of the Saginaw Club, he has served on its board of directors and as vice president of the organization. In addition to his position with Seitner's, Krohn holds the presidency of the J. B. Sperry Co. of Port Huron. He also is a director of Second National Bank in Saginaw and served a term as president of the Central States Department Stores Association.

Krohn graduated from Saginaw High School in 1942 and received a Bachelor of Arts degree from MSU in 1948. Krohn and his wife, Barbara, have three daughters. They are Saginaw residents.

SVSC FACULTY ASSOCIATION AWARDS HONORS

Three students have been selected to receive the first tuition grants through the SVSC Faculty Association scholarship program. The awards were presented at a Monday, April 28 banquet at Doan Center.

Recipients of the scholarships are: Valerie Hamilton, Sharon Hungerford and Priscilla Seward. Hamilton is a junior majoring in social work, from Saginaw. Her mentor will be Mrs. Nellie Monroe, associate professor of social work. Hungerford is a senior majoring in elementary education, from Saginaw. Dr. Kenneth R. Wahl, professor of education, will serve as her mentor. Seward is a history major from Snover. She is a junior and will study with Dr. Drew Hinderer, associate professor of philosophy-English, as her mentor.

Hamilton and Hungerford each will receive $300 toward tuition, while Seward has been awarded $400. Each student also received a plaque, and mentors were presented certificates recognizing their commitment to the students' academic development.

The endowment fund that supports the scholarships has accumulated more than $22,000 in principal since fundraising efforts began less than three years ago. Contributors include faculty, staff and interested community members.

Sharing the limelight with the student scholarship winners were two professors from the history department whose accomplishments were recognized by their peers. The award for outstanding scholarship went to Dr. Thomas Renna, while Dr. Robert Braddock received the college service award.

For Renna, the award was another in a series of tributes to his research and writing. Earlier this year he became the first recipient of the SVSC Award for Excellence in Research. Renna joined the SVSC faculty in 1970. He earned a B.A. from the University of Scranton, an M.A. from the University of Nebraska, and a Ph.D. from Brown University.

Braddock has chaired the history department since 1985. He served for four years on the college's curriculum committee, which has a major responsibility for developing the school's academic programs.

Braddock also served for two years on the General Education Task Force, assisting with the establishment of requirements in the humanities, social studies and natural sciences.

He is faculty advisor for the SVSC History/Political Science Club and for the soccer club. He has served as advisor to the Valley Vanguard editor, and he was a member of the NCA Evaluation steering committee.

Like Renna, Braddock has numerous scholarly accomplishments to his credit. On four occasions he has received National Endowment for the Humanities grants for summer seminars. His articles and reviews have been published in "Albion," "16th Century Journal," "Michigan Academician," and "Journal of British Studies."

Braddock holds an A.B. degree from Middlebury College, and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Northwestern University. He also attended the University of London.

HIGH FIVE

--SVSC's golf team, after consistently finding the water on Friday, roared back into the lead Saturday to overtake Ferris State. A four-man score of 299 over its home Bay Valley Golf Club course allowed the Cards to finish four strokes ahead of the Bulldogs, 609-613.

Tom Ham shot even par 71, low score Saturday; Joe Sabatino carded 76, Kendall Kinsey 77 and Andy Bethune 78 to round out the team's 299 score. Saginaw Valley has a busy week ahead, playing the Motor City Tournament Friday, the Ferris tournament Saturday and Sunday, then returning to Bay Valley on May 5 for the NAIA District tournament. Winning the NAIA Districts qualifies the team for the Nationals in June in Montgomery, Alabama.

Joe Sabatino blasts this shot out of the trap at Bay Valley Country Club during the SVSC Intercollegiate. Saginaw Valley won the tournament by four strokes over GLIAC rival Ferris State College.

--The Cardinal baseball team scored six runs with two outs over the course of two innings to erase a 7-1 Wayne State lead. A run scored in the bottom of the seventh pulled out the win. Mike Hill raised his record to 3-1 with the win in relief. Hill has defeated Wayne State twice this year and has thrown only nine pitches in both wins. The Cards went on to win the nightcap easily, 13-3. The victories raised SVSC's record to 11-3 in the GLIAC and 28-11-1 overall.

--The women's softball team (19-13) defeated Grand Valley State College, 3-2, by scoring three runs in the top of the seventh inning. SVSC won the GVSC Invitational with a 4-0 record.

--The tennis team scored a 9-0 victory over Siena Heights. Winners in singles competition were Theresa Buchholz, Terri Bako, Misty Cramer, Tammy Manninen, Diane Kostenko, and Carol Kneller.
