FORUM FOCUSES ON FUTURE

What goals should Saginaw Valley State College set for the 1990's? Who should make the decisions that govern our current and future activities? What kind of social and economic environment is SVSC likely to face in the future? What is an appropriate relationship between general education and professional education programs? What kinds of regional and specialized accreditation should SVSC seek for its programs?

These and other questions were examined at a Futures Forum sponsored by the SVSC Board of Control (BoC) and the College's Planning Resource Council (PRC). The meeting, held on Sunday, October 26, included the Administrative Council, department chairs, support unit directors, SVSCFA executive board, Board of Fellows representatives, and BoC and PRC members.

The program was structured around four sessions, each chaired by a Board member. The format of the first three was a presentation by an outside speaker followed by reactions from two members of the campus community. The final session was handled by a panel of SVSC speakers. Each section closed with a question and answer period, and the first three were followed by small group discussions designed to elicit suggestions for actions SVSC might consider for implementation.

Speakers for the sessions were Mr. Donald Power of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, on "Goals and Governance;" Dr. Laurence Rosen, state demographer, on "Responding to Demographic Change;" and Dr. James Hamilton, associate provost, Michigan State University, on "General and Professional Education." In the final session, Dr. Robert Yien and Dr. Arnold Melnick provided information on NCA accreditation. Dr. Jean Brown outlined NCATE (teacher accreditation). ABET (Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology) was explained by Dr. Thomas Kullgren, and Dr. James Mitchell addressed issues related to AACSB (American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business) accreditation.

PRC members acted as recorders for the sessions. When their reports have been combined, results will be distributed to all Forum participants. Copies also will be available in the Office of Institutional Research and Planning and on reserve in the Library, as are copies of "Looking Forward, Looking Back," a report reviewing results of the planning process at SVSC. Participants received copies of the planning report at the Forum. Future issues of the Interior will examine each Forum session in more detail.

Etceteras . . .

. . . "In a September 1981 report to the College community, President Jack M. Ryder listed 13 high-priority goals for program development, 12 additional goals which 'a concerted effort' would be made to attain, and 12 more 'promising proposals' requiring further study or problem solving. . . . Clearly, progress on the 13 high priority goals identified during the College's first formal planning cycle has been substantial."

Among the goals identified during the 1985-86 planning cycle are decentralization of budget authority, accreditation of several academic programs, and planning facilities for continuing education, economic development and other activities. Eleven new goals are listed.

"Looking Forward, Looking Back" -- October 1986

. . . "In shaping its objectives, the College has tried to understand the needs, resources, and requirements of this Tri-County community. . . . The following instructional facilities appear necessary to house academic programs . . . general purpose academic building, buildings for schools of education, business administration, health science, fine arts and engineering and science."

INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES OPEN TO FACULTY AND STAFF

Do you feel like you've just run the Boston Marathon after finally making it to the third floor of Wickes or Brown Hall? If this sounds familiar, maybe you should keep reading.

Intramurals Supervisor Therese DeNeff is planning an intramurals program that is open to faculty and staff as well as students.

DeNeff explains, "In an attempt to encourage faculty and staff to become involved in intramurals, I'm offering more opportunities for individual athletic pursuits."

The program will include, for example, a cross country ski clinic and the 'Century Club. The clinic, which will be held during 1987 winter semester, provides an opportunity to rent ski equipment on-campus, DeNeff said.

Plans for the Century Club include providing incentives for those who like to cover long distances--via skiing, walking or running. Each participant receives a tee shirt after logging 25, 50, then 100 miles.

Presently a variety of activities are being offered. These include golf, softball, football, 3-on-3 basketball, a 3-on-3 'superhoops' tourney, euchre, bowling nights, a bowling league, table tennis, a turkey trot (fun run), an 'extramural' football championship, handicapped basketball, tennis and a skating night.

Other events on tap for winter semester are volleyball, a partners pentathlon, broom ball, 5-on-5 basketball, a softball tournament, backgammon, more bowling nights, another bowling league, darts, an 'extramural' basketball championship, office olympics and a special week of winter events.

In addition, the Intramurals Office has scheduled aerobics classes four times each week and open recreation time at Cardinal Gymnasium and at Delta College's Pioneer Gym. Also available are an ice skating rink and marked cross-country, running and walking trails.

So, with all of these fun events available, why limit conditioning to running up and down stairs? Call Therese DeNeff for further information on intramural activities for faculty and staff by phoning extension 4067 Monday through Thursday.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN UPCOMING FOREIGN LANGUAGE DAY

The Department of Modern Foreign Languages will host its eleventh annual Foreign Language Day on Wednesday, November 5 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Foreign Language Day is open to high school students and teachers of French, German, Latin, Polish and Spanish. Scheduled activities include a fair with booths oriented toward the respective cultures with various foreign language items on sale. Ethnic entertainment, films, a skit/song/dance and cheerleading contests also will take place, with prizes awarded in each contest. Events will be held in the Doan Center and Cardinal Gymnasium.

Last year about 300 students from 12 Michigan high schools participated in the event, according to Dr. Emilio Castaneda, associate professor of Spanish. Castaneda said, "Studying a foreign language extends beyond a classroom experience. This event helps create an awareness of cultures throughout the world. Also, the students can compare their learning experiences with students from other schools."

The campus community is invited to share in the day's events. Call extension 4486 for further information.

SVSC JAZZ ENSEMBLE PRESENTS GUEST ARTIST

A November 10 jazz concert featuring guest musician and composer Jeff Hall will take place at the SVSC theatre at 7:30 p.m.

Hall is an adjunct instructor in the SVSC music department, and also is a member of a Flint swing jazz group, the "Stardust Jukebox Company." In addition, Hall has played in the pit orchestras with stars such as Dizzy Gillespie, The Temptations, and the Drifters. Hall will be performing a number of his own compositions at the Monday evening performance.

Concert tickets can be obtained in advance at the SVSC fine arts office. Call extension 4159 between 8:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

THIS IS COOPERATIVE EDUCATION MONTH

In observance of November as Cooperative Education Month, Governor James J. Blanchard has issued an executive declaration recognizing the many contributions made by cooperative education programs in Michigan. Today some 24,000 students are enhancing their employability by participating in cooperative education.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOPS SCHEDULED

Secretarial/Clerical employees and Administrative/Professional staff are encouraged to participate in a professional development workshop. Guest speaker Daniel L. Andrews, president of Andrews Consulting Corporation, will discuss "Empathy: Humanism in the Workplace."
