IF-2 DEDICATION DEEMED A SUCCESS

HUNDREDS TURN OUT TO CELEBRATE IF-2 OPENING

Approximately 1,000 people turned out to help the College celebrate the opening of the newest trio of buildings on campus.

Among those joining President Jack Ryder and the campus community in the dedication of Instructional Facility No. 2 were Gary Bachula, director of the Governor's Cabinet Council for Human Investment; and Rep. James E. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the Capital Outlay Committee in the Michigan Legislature.

Also in attendance was Dr. Melvin J. Zahnow, for whom the new library facilities were named, and members of his family.

Members of the Maurice E. Brown family were also in attendance for the dedication of the classroom building named for their father.

Addressing the trials and tribulations of the construction of the new buildings were members of the faculty and staff housed in the structures.

Dr. Robert S.P. Yien, vice president for academic affairs, presided over the dedication of each building in the two-hour ceremony.

The College's Board of Control members were in attendance, as well as representatives of the architectural firm Dow·Howell·Gilmore·Associates Inc. of Midland, and several College supporters.

President Jack M. Ryder addresses the campus community and College supporters Sunday, April 12 during dedication ceremonies for Maurice E. Brown Hall, the Melvin J. Zahnow Library and the Science Building.

Above, Gary Bachula told those gathered for dedication ceremonies that Michigan's greatest resource is education. Earlier in the week, Thursday, April 9 members of the Saginaw Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association donated a zumi crabapple tree (above right) and three redbuds. Greta Brown, the daughter-in-law of the late Maurice E. Brown, stands with Dr. Al Beutler before Brown Hall.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Dr. Al Beutler, executive director of the SVSC Foundation and chairman of the dedication committee, extends his gratitude to all who assisted in the activities surrounding the dedication of IF-2. Beutler expressed appreciation to all members of the campus community for their efforts and the tremendous support given him and his staff. "I realize the extra demands this placed upon those already busy with College activities, and am grateful for the additional efforts," Beutler said.
