WHO'S ON FIRST? (Wickes Hall Move in Progress)

For several campus offices, the beginning of a new year marks more than simply the start of another semester. A number of units also are moving to new quarters as renovation of Wickes Hall progresses.

As with any move to new facilities, there are adjustments to be made to a new environment. The Wickes move is further complicated by the necessity to temporarily relocate some offices so remodeling work can continue.

The general approach has been to work on Wickes floor by floor, beginning at ground level. As the new year begins, work is largely completed on first floor, and office space is in use. Some areas are occupied by permanent residents; others are serving as temporary homes for second and third floor staff while construction work occurs there.

Plans call for completing renovation of second floor by March 1, and the target date for finishing third floor is July 1.

While classes scheduled for Wickes lecture hall will meet in temporary locations this week, they will move back to Wickes the week of Jan. 18 on a permanent basis. The second floor hallway has been cleared for use as a passageway between the Arbury Fine Arts Center and Brown Hall, but other areas of Wickes second floor are construction sites and are off-limits.

For those interested in locating campus neighbors, the following listing should be of assistance.

Currently located on first floor, in their permanent locations, are all offices associated with placement, cooperative education, career counseling and personal counseling (1). Student Government (2) also is in its new home.

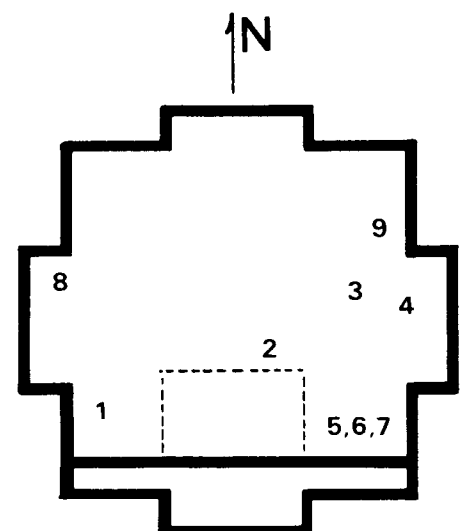

Occupying temporary locations on first floor are offices of the Dean of Student Affairs (3), Health Services (4), deans of Arts & Behavioral Sciences (5), Business & Management (6) and Education (7), Director of Student Teaching (8) and the Valley Vanguard (9). In addition, Academic Support Services, the Registrar's Office and the phone switchboard anticipate moving to first floor by the end of the month.

When work is completed, the second floor will house Computer Services, Health Services, Information Services, the Valley Vanguard, and the nursing program classrooms.

Units to be located on third floor are the President; vice presidents; deans of Student Affairs, arts and behavioral sciences, business and management, education and nursing; BIDI; SVSU Foundation; Sponsored Programs and the switchboard.

The offices of Admissions and Scholarships & Financial Aid will move to first floor this summer after temporary residents in their areas have relocated to permanent sites on other floors. The first floor also will include cashier's and accounts receivable offices.

HEAVY COURSE LOAD

-- Dr. James Mitchell, dean of the school of business and management, carries a load of (ahem) supplies into his temporary quarters on the first floor of Wickes Hall. Mitchell and other academic deans will get another workout when they move in July to the third floor of Wickes Hall.

The grant monies of $8,100 will be used to purchase computer equipment for the program, according to Gary Apsey, director of placement, cooperative education and counseling services.

Apsey said the funds are unused workstudy dollars from the colleges and universities through the United States. The money is then used to develop or expand cooperative education programs, he added.

Apsey said SVSU's co-op program has received increasingly larger sums of funding due to the increasing number of students utilizing the program.
