MICHIGAN ACADEMY OF SCIENCE, ARTS & LETTERS TO MEET

More than 300 faculty and students from Michigan colleges and universities will gather on campus Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5 for the 92nd annual meeting of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts & Letters. This is the first year the academy has met on the campus. Events will take place both days from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. throughout campus. They are open to the public.

Among those scheduled to present papers are nearly 30 members of the SVSU community -- a record number. In addition, Dr. Crystal Lange, dean of the college of nursing and allied health sciences, is a member at large in the organization. The University's organizational representative is Dr. Thomas Renna, professor of history.

Dr. Hong Park, professor of economics, is economics section chairman. Dr. Sachiko Claus, assistant professor of nursing, is chairperson of the nursing section.

According to Dr. Robert S.P. Yien, vice president for academic affairs, the University began soliciting the academy four years ago to conduct its annual meeting at SVSU during the 25th anniversary year. Yien said until 1984 the academy held its annual meetings either at The University of Michigan or Michigan State University.

Yien said the purpose of the gathering of the academy at SVSU is to promote the silver anniversary of the institution's founding. He added that having the academy's convention here "makes our academic programs more visible."

"Although we are small, we have good faculty, too," Yien said.

SVSU faculty and students have contributed papers in most previous gatherings of the academy.

This year, SVSU faculty and students will be making a number of presentations both Friday and Saturday.

Scheduled to make presentations Friday morning are
