25TH ANNIVERSARY INCLUDES NOSTALGIA, JAZZ, HUMOR

A laugh-a-rama jazzed up through music is the top act during SVSU's celebration of its 25th anniversary/Homecoming Sept. 25 through Oct. 1.

Two comedians and the New Reformation Band of jazz musicians are scheduled to lead the headline event on Friday, Sept. 29. "Comedy & All That Jazz!" will take place from 7:30 to 11 p.m. in Cardinal Gymnasium.

The feature comedy acts are Claire Berger (of "Second City" and "Saturday Night Live!" fame), and up-and-coming funny man Ray Thomas. WSGW's Art Lewis will emcee the event.

Tickets are $8 for main floor seating; $5 for general admission and available from Conference Bureau, ext. 4348.

Berger has more than a decade of experience entertaining from coast to coast. She has wooed them in colleges throughout the country. Berger also appeared in the movies "Risky Business" and "Windy City."

Thomas is a relative newcomer to the field of stand-up comedy. However, he has performed in comedy clubs and colleges from Colorado Springs to Manhattan, including stints in Lansing and Grand Rapids.

The New Reformation Band is Saginaw's own dixieland/jazz troupe. The NRB has been billed as "America's Most Entertaining Jazz Band."

During their 17-year existence, the band has produced five albums and spawned two splinter groups. It has performed with jazz greats and shared concert stages with several show business personalities.

Other happenings planned throughout the week include alumni gatherings, student events and activities rooting on the Cardinal football team.

Additional information on 25th Anniversary/Homecoming activities is included in the enclosed flier.

Xochiquetzal Mexican Folkloric Ballet troupe highlights activities planned to celebrate "Hispanic Heritage '88." The company of 30 young dancers will perform at 4:30 p.m. today in the Doan Mall. A reception will follow.

The "Popular Arts of Mexico" exhibit continues through Sept. 30 in the University Art Gallery. The exhibit displays the variety and quality of Mexican craftsmanship. AMBASSADOR TO DISCUSS U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS AT SVSU

The future of U.S.-Soviet relations has been debated in arenas throughout the world. However, quite often the moderator is familiar with the subject through research alone. Ambassador Ralph Earle II brings first-hand knowledge from the front line of negotiations with the United States' chief competition in world power.

Earle, chief U.S. negotiator during the SALT II talks in Geneva, will speak at 8 p.m. Sept. 14 in the SVSU Theatre. His address replaces a previously scheduled appearance by Karl Hess.

Earle is considered among the most authoritative and knowledgeable voices addressing crucial questions related to U.S.-Soviet relations. In addition to his part in the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT) talks in Geneva, Earle was director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and the senior civilian representative of the Defense Department at NATO.

Earle spent seven years in nearly daily face-to-face negotiations with the Soviets -- believed to be the most time any living American has spent in such relations. He is billed as the author of the SALT II treaty, called a "masterpiece of modern diplomacy" by TIME magazine.

Earle's address is sponsored by the SVSU office of Campus Activities.

For ticket information, call extension. 4170.

The Roethke Poetry Award is the second largest poetry prize in America. The first prize was awarded in 1968 to Howard Nemerov, America's current poet laureate. Kizer made that presentation to Nemerov in 1968. Now, 20 years, later, Nemerov will do a turnabout and make the presentation to Kizer for her book The Nearness of You.
