'A DOLL'S HOUSE' ON STAGE

The "slam heard 'round the world" more than a century ago will resound through the Saginaw Valley. Via SVSU's communication and theatre department, "A Doll's House" will be performed Nov. 4 through 6.

When "A Doll's House," by Henrik Ibsen, was first performed in 1879, the ending shattered the male-dominated world of that time. The production also is credited with the start of the women's movement. When the heroine takes her own initiative (albeit illegally) and her husband refuses her support, she closes the door on their marriage -- an occurrence unheard of in the 1870s.

Public performances of the play will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 4 and 5; and at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6 in the Theatre.

Amy Turrill, a freshman from Saginaw, stars as Nora, a wife so totally devoted to her husband Torvald that she forges her father's signature to obtain a loan to aid Torvald's failing health. Lars Österlind, an exchange student from Malmö, Sweden, plays Torvald.

Randy Goodman, Standish sophomore, and Ric Roberts, Saginaw sophomore, will share the role of Dr. Rank, the Helmers' best friend.

Nora's friend Kristine Linde is portrayed by Princess Wiggins, a freshman from Flint. Linde arrives on the Helmers' doorstep after her husband passes away.

Demetrious Bady, a freshman from Saginaw, plays the part of Nils Krogstad, a lawyer who discovers Nora's deceit.

Ann-Mari, the nursemaid, is portrayed by Julie Roche, a Frankenmuth junior. Helene, the maid, is played by Dawn Marie Corbett, a Sterling Heights freshman.

The script for "A Doll's House" was revised by Christopher Hampton in 1972. The director is Dr. Janet Rubin, professor of communication/theatre.

Faculty and staff may receive complimentary tickets -- ext. 4492.

Nora (Amy Turrill) and her husband Torvald (Lars Österlind) give instructions to Helene, the maid (Dawn Marie Corbett) during rehearsal for "A Doll's House."
BE SURE TO VOTE!
SAY YES TO DELTA MILLAGE

President Jack M. Ryder is encouraging all SVSU students, faculty and staff to approve Delta College's millage request on the Nov. 8 ballot.

"Delta College needs your support at the polls for a three-year period to provide badly needed equipment for its instructional programs, for maintenance of existing facilities -- many of which are in a state of disrepair -- and for capital improvements exclusive of new building construction," Ryder said.

"You, better than most, understand the relationship between higher education, economic vitality and a better quality of life," he continued. "Delta College, like SVSU, must play a crucial role in the future of the Saginaw Valley. I encourage you to exercise your right to vote in the national election and give your affirmative vote for the Delta millage."

LAST CALL FOR HONORARY DEGREE NOMINATIONS; DUE NOVEMBER 28

Nominations are due Nov. 28 for 1989 honorary degree recipients. The nominations will be introduced to the Board of Control during its Dec. 12 meeting and the recipients named in April. The degrees will be bestowed during Commencement 1989, May 5 and 6.

A list of criteria is available from the President's Office. Nominations should be submitted to President Jack M. Ryder.

RUFFIN PRESENTATION

SVSU's King-Chavez-Parks Visiting Professor Dr. Roosevelt Ruffin will discuss the teaching of minority students in the classroom. The presentation will begin at 4 p.m., Nov. 3 in Room 127 of Brown Hall.

MINORITY BUSINESS MONTH -- More than 150 people gathered at the Florentine Inn last week to celebrate the accomplishments of Saginaw area minority business. The conference, jointly sponsored by BIDI and the Saginaw Area Growth Alliance with support from the Michigan Small Business Center, was in observance of October as Minority Business Month. Guest speakers Dr. Lawrence Crawford, former mayor of Saginaw, and Don Wiggins, co-owner of radio station WTLZ-FM, shared their business experiences and success stories. Below, among those attending from SVSU were Leroy Hampton (right), director of affirmative action, and Nellie Monroe (center), assistant professor of social work.

Former Saginaw Mayor Lawrence Crawford (above) told business owners that "minorities and the white community have the same problems" and stressed the need to be creative in capitalizing on business opportunities. Don Wiggins, WTLZ-FM co-owner, underscored the need for creativity and persistence, adding suggestions for recruiting, training and maintaining qualified employees.
BE A DRAFT DODGER!

With the promise of winter, the staff of Physical Plant reminds campus personnel to keep windows closed! If you wish to have the window open while in a room, be sure to close it when you leave -- especially before weekend break. This will not only keep rooms at a comfortable temperature, but keep heating costs down as well.

SCHOLARSHIPS/FINANCIAL AID
PLAN DEBT MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

A program on debt management for students who have borrowed or plan to borrow to finance their education will take place Nov. 8 through 10. The free program is sponsored by the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid.

The program is scheduled for 10 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 8 in Room 204 of the Zahnow Library; 1 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 9 in Room 204 of the Zahnow Library and 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 10 in Room 143 of the Science Building.

INTERACTIVE VIDEOS
TRACH LOTUS

The Zahnow Library will have interactive videos to teach Lotus 1-2-3 available to campus personnel for four weeks -- longer if there is a need.

To reserve a terminal, contact Brian Mudd, audio/visual assistant, at extension 4243. For additional information, contact either Mudd or Janet Joyce, coordinator of microcomputer laboratories, extension 5636.

HIGH FIVE

-- The football team Saturday defeated Wayne State 34-22 to up its record to 3-4 overall and 1-2 in the GLIAC.

-- The volleyball squad snapped a 14-game conference losing streak by beating Hillsdale Thursday. On Saturday, the Lady Cards lost to Wayne State to set their record at 11-20 overall and 1-12 in the GLIAC.

-- The women's tennis team finished seventh in the GLIAC women's tennis tournament in Midland last weekend. SVSU finished sixth in the GLIAC overall.
ALERT! ALERT! PAPER COSTS SKYROCKETING

The adage "not worth the paper it's written on" is taking on new meaning these days. Paper costs have been rising rapidly, with increases as high as 5 percent per month. Price pressures, we are told, come from a strong foreign market for paper stocks.

Some representative costs for papers and stationery commonly used on campus illustrate the problem:

No. 10 envelopes
$10.49/thousand, 10/1987
$14.25/thousand, 10/1988

No. 9 envelopes
$11.14/thousand, 10/1987
$14.38/thousand, 10/1988

Plain bond
$9.77/thousand, 11/1987
$12.83/thousand, 10/1988

Photocopy paper
$21.30/carton, 01/1988
$28/carton, 10/1988

NCR (carbonless)
$10.43/ream, 10/1987
$11.57/ream, 10/1988

The increases above range from 11 percent to nearly 36 percent, obviously a problem in a budget-crunch year.

Therefore, conservation is imperative to keep costs in line with zero-increase budgets. Some suggestions:

1. Purge mailing lists.

2. Plan mailings and publications carefully to use the minimum amount of paper to convey necessary information.

3. Attempt to reduce waste by carefully editing and checking documents on screen.

4. Consider using the reverse side of scrap paper for first drafts or for learning new computer programs.

5. Cut use of photocopier to minimum; use quick-copy service from Graphics Center; develop NCR forms where appropriate; replace memos with phone calls when feasible.

6. Evaluate planned messages; is a printed document really necessary? If so, how widely should it be distributed? Can a less expensive grade of paper be used?

7. Proportional fonts save space compared to standard typewritten fonts -- especially important for long documents.

8. Use FAX or modem data transmission when possible.
