Alcohol Awareness Week: October 16 through 23

Saginaw Valley State University will be joining colleges and universities across the country to observe National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week, Oct. 16 through 23. Events began Monday with a door decorating contest in residence hall suites and an "Ice Cream Happy Hour."

A "Sidewalk Campaign" today will feature an assortment of tips, facts and figures relating to alcohol use for strollers as they walk about campus.

The campus version of the television game show "Hollywood Squares" will take place at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Lower Level Doan, featuring campus personalities as celebrities.

On Friday, the Residence Hall Association will sponsor a "Toga Party," from 9 p.m. to midnight in Lower Level Doan. "Mocktails" and togas will be highlights of the evening.

Activities conclude on Monday, Oct. 23 with a lecture at 10 p.m. by Dr. Ross Rapaport in Lower Level Doan. Rapaport will address the issue of alcohol and athletics. He is a staff member at Central Michigan University, where he has developed what is considered one of the five best substance abuse prevention programs in the country.

The week is designed to educate college students on the perils of substance use and abuse.

All festivities are sponsored by SafeHaven, the Athletic Department, Campus Activities, the Counseling Center, Health Services and Residential Life.

For additional information on any of the programs, contact Campus Activities at ext. 4170, or Residential Life, ext. 4255.

The week also marks the first group of activities for Marie Halveston, recently hired as substance abuse prevention specialist. Halveston will oversee SafeHaven and all substance abuse education programs.

Halveston is an alumnus of SVSU, having graduated magna cum laude with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology. She also received her teacher certification in K-9 from SVSU. Halveston has a master of arts degree in curriculum and instruction from Michigan State University. In addition, Halveston was a graduate assistant in teacher education and later supervisor of student teachers at SVSU.

Previously, the substance abuse education program at SVSU had been funded entirely through grants. A portion of the $1 increase in the student general service fee enabled the program to garner $15,000 toward its continued implementation.

Interested individuals may contact Halveston by calling either extension 5600 or 4168.
