NAFTA Topic for Wickson-Nickless Lecture

If the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) is approved, will it stimulate business and create jobs? Or will it, as some say, trigger a wholesale transfer of jobs from the United States to Mexico?

The argument over the adoption of the controversial trade agreement will be the topic of a presentation by former U.S. Senator William E. Brock, who served four years as U.S. Trade Representative in the Reagan Administration. Brock will present "NAFTA: Three Nations in the Balance" at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 11 in the University Theatre.

In addition to his four years as U.S. Trade Representative, Brock was elected to two terms of office as U.S. Senator from Tennessee, and was Secretary of Labor during Ronald Reagan's first term as president.

Brock's appearance marks the second in a series of presentations in the Wickson-Nickless Distinguished Lectureship in Business. Established in 1992, the series is named in honor of the late James E. Wickson and Allen E. Nickless.

The lectureship provides forums for the debate and study of contemporary events and issues that influence business policies and behavior. A second lecture will be scheduled early in 1994.

Admission to the lecture is free and open to the public. For additional information, contact the College of Business and Management, ext. 4064.

SVSU Wigilia Celebration Features Pianist Leszek Bartkiewicz

Leszek Bartkiewicz

Celebrated pianist, Leszek Bartkiewicz, will be the guest artist at this year's traditional Polish Wigilia supper celebration at Saginaw Valley State University. The Polish born pianist will perform waltzes and mazurkas by Chopin and other selections.

Sponsored by the SVSU Polish Club, the evening's celebration is scheduled to begin at 6:00 p.m., Sunday, December 5, in the lower level of Doan Center on the University campus. A traditional five-course meal will follow the Oplatek, a ritual sharing of morsels of food by dinner guests.

There is always a place left vacant at the table because it was believed if someone knocked at the door, it might be Jesus in disguise. Unexpected guests would always be welcome to join the celebration. Oplatek, unleavened wheat wafer, symbolizes the unity of all people of good will in Christ and sharing it means mutual forgiveness and love.

Bartkiewicz, a native of Poland, began playing piano at age six. Prior to coming to the United States in 1981 to pursue further musical study at the University of Michigan, he enjoyed great success in his native land as a soloist with major Polish symphony orchestras and chamber groups, as well as participating in music festivals and competitions in Poland, Western Europe, and Japan. He has won many awards for his performances including the coveted Chopin Society (of Poland) Competition Scholarship. Bartkiewicz is currently a faculty member of Detroit's Center for Creative Studies/Institute of Music and Dance, where he is the Aetna Artist-in-Residence.

Reservations are $12.50 per person and may be arranged by calling Victoria Williams at 792-9293 or Dina Wehner at 793-7903.

Holden Fund Sponsors Gallery Tours for School Classes

In each of the last couple years, about 100 classes and some 3000 students have toured the Marshall M. Fredericks Sculpture Gallery. Now the gallery may serve even more students, thanks to a major grant from the James and Lynelle Holden Fund, a Detroit-area foundation.

"We are extremely grateful to the Holden Fund for their support of our tour program," said Gallery Director Michael W. Panhorst. "The gallery is a significant component of the fine arts education of many students in the tri-counties and Thumb area. We are delighted that the Holden Fund has enabled us to continue our service to this growing audience."

The $9355 grant will provide guided tours for kindergarten through college classes on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings when the gallery is not open to the public. Tours can be tailored to focus on special topics relevant to a particular classroom's curriculum, and students will have the opportunity to sketch or draw in the gallery.

Coordinating the program for 1993-94 will be award-winning classroom teacher Bonnie J. Wilson. Students assisting her are Sarah Carnegie, Theresa Zukowski and Kayla Linton. For further information, call ext. 5667.
