

South Campus Complex B

South Campus Complex “B”, known for years as the “66” building was the first building to be constructed on the campus. Originally housing the entire population of Saginaw Valley College, it is currently used for office and shop space.

South Campus Complex B Building Data

Total square feet: 17,540 sq. ft.

Original Construction

- Constructed In: 1966
- Architect: Roy D. Murphy & Associates
- General Contractor: National MCI Construction Co.