

SE&T Colloquium Series-Winter 2020

Speaker	Dr. Mark Moldwin Arthur F. Thurnau Professor of Climate and Space Sciences and Engineering, University of Michigan Executive Director of NASA's Michigan Space Grant Consortium Host: Dr. Khandaker A. Rahman
Title	Space Weather Impacts on Human Exploration of Mars
Abstract	When will a human explorer visit Mars? This presentation will outline the rationale, current plans, and limitations of future human exploration of Mars in the context of space weather - the dynamic space environment that impacts our space-based and ground-based technology and society.
Date	Tuesday, February 11
Time	4:10-5:00pm
Place	Pioneer 240 Refreshments will be served at 4:00pm.