

SVSU's Master of Education - Principalship prepares educators aspiring to become K-12 building principals. Our M.Ed. is aligned with the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) standards and focuses on improving student achievement through organizational and instructional leadership.

Centered on current research and best practices, this program links theory and practice and provides opportunities to develop these skills through problem-based learning, reflective practice, real-world case studies, field experiences and projects that enable the integration of knowledge and experience in real-world settings.

Admission Requirements*:

- Online application (www.svsu.edu/graduateprograms)
- A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university with a cumulative GPA of 3.0
- Official undergraduate & graduate transcripts (if applicable)
- Teacher certification in the State of Michigan, or an out-of-state certificate recognized by the State of Michigan OR departmental approval

Applicants just completing a teacher preparedness program at another institution, must include a letter from the recommending institution.

Non-Teacher Certified Applicants must complete a Request for Admission form (available online) with department/faculty approval.

*Additional application requirements for international applicants available online.

Maximize your MEd with a plan of study, as established by the program coordinator before you begin.
